Eisenhower And Khrushchev Will Exchange Visits In Fall

Visits Help Ease Fears Of Big Four

Geneva Conference Now Scheduled To Close Wednesday

GENEVA (AP)—Today's announcement of an exchange of visits in the fall by President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev eased Allied fears today of a dangerous new flareup in the Berlin crisis after the collapse of the foreign ministers' conference here.

U.S., British and French officials all conceded the conference almost certainly will end in disagreement Wednesday. The only reservation they make is that some unforseen and radical change of position by Russia could alter the outcome even on the final day. Informants said the West will not change its position.

Negotiations have come almost to a standstill. The only East-West talk scheduled today was a luncheon meeting between Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. The Briton was to meet before and after with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

Lloyd and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan see a Khrushchev - Eisenhower meeting as a step toward a Summit conference, which they still ardently desire. They apparently believe talks between the Soviet Premier and the U.S. President would open up prospects for agreement at the Summit on at least one or two issues.

A West German spokesman said: "We have full confidence in our American allies that they will see to our interests in any talks on the German problem with Khrushchev."

The central issues that have developed here represent real conflicts of interest between the two great power blocs and not just debating points to be ironed out around the conference table.

Russia is insistent that by one means or another the Western powers must withdraw from West Berlin. The Russians have proposed to guarantee it as a "free city" — that is, free of Communist East German control — and to delay for 18 months or more their threat to take action to force the Allies out if they do not go willingly.

The West maintains that the presence of the 11,000 U.S., British and French troops in West Berlin is the only guarantee that the 2¼ million West Berliners have against Communist absorption.

Underlying the Soviet position is a clear determination to build up the East German Communist regime and increasingly win Western recognition for it.

Reception Sunday Most Rousing Yet

Enthusiastic 'Welcomes!' Continue As Nixon Procession Tours Poland

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon was enthusiastically acclaimed today with cries of "live 100 years" by at least 5,000 people at Poland's Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

One man broke through police lines to give the American visitor a bear hug that almost swept him off his feet.

The crowd was small in comparison to the quarter of a million Poles who greeted Nixon on arrival Sunday. But it outdid even that great throng in vociferousness and enthusiasm.

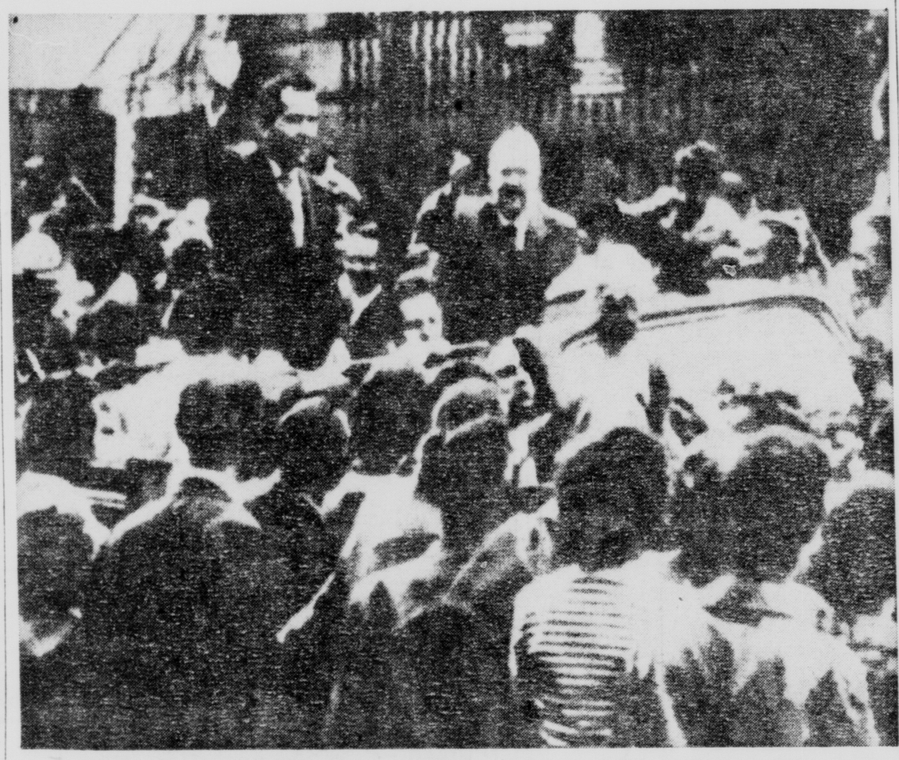

Grinning, Nixon moved back toward his car, and the procession went off to the government offices for calls on Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka, Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz and Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki.

Earlier, Nixon paid a protocol call on President Aleksandr Sawadski, who had invited him to Poland, and on Parliament Speaker Czeslaw Wycech.

The reception Sunday was the most rousing Nixon had gotten. For nearly 15 miles, ecstatic crowds cheered the delighted vice president and showered him with flowers after he arrived by plane from Moscow.

Nixon closed out his Soviet tour with a news conference at which he said that Premier Nikita Khrushchev should be invited to the United States to rid him of some "very real misconceptions" about the American people and their economy. He made plain, however, that only President Eisenhower can decide if and when such an invitation should be issued.

The White House has declined to comment on speculation about an invitation to Khrushchev. But Allied diplomats at the Big Four conference in Geneva generally believe the invitation would be issued.

On his arrival Sunday, Nixon was greeted by Vice President Oscar Lange, former head of the Polish delegation at the United Nations, and Deputy Foreign Minister Josef Winiewicz, former Polish ambassador in Washington. Since Nixon is not a chief of state, protocol did not require the top officials to turn out.

Nixon's tumultous welcome to Warsaw exceeded that given Khrushchev last month, when he made a 10-day state visit to Poland.

"Nothing ever exceeded this," said the jubilant vice president after his drive through milling throngs from Warsaw's Babice Military Airport to Myslewicki Palace at the edge of the capital, where he and his wife are staying during their three-day visit.

The crowds threw so many flowers into Nixon's open car that it had to be swept out four times. To protect himself from the barrage of bouquets, he smilingly caught them like a baseball player.

"We love you," cried onlookers, blowing kisses at Nixon.

In the crowd lining the streets 10-deep were hundreds of Polish army men. "Bravo America!" the crowds shouted over and over.

Preliminary Europe Trip Due By Ike

Russian Premier Scheduled To Come Here In September

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower announced today that he and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will exchange visits this fall.

Khrushchev will visit this country in September. Eisenhower will return the visit later in the fall.

No exact dates have been fixed.

Eisenhower said Khrushchev probably will spend about 10 days in this country, two or three of them in informal conferences in Washington.

As a preliminary to Khrushchev's visit, Eisenhower will go to Europe later this month to confer with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Charles de Gaulle of France.

Eisenhower called a special news conference to announce the planned exchange of visits.

In response to questions, he left up in the air the possibility of a Big Four summit meeting after the exchange of visits with Khrushchev.

He said such a conference was absolutely impractical unless there were advance indications of positive results.

Eisenhower smilingly described his announcement that Khrushchev would visit this country in September and that he would return the visit later as one of the worst-kept secrets in a long time.

The Soviet radio made the announcement about the time the President was meeting with newsmen. Also there had been word earlier from congressional sources that Eisenhower's news conference call was for the purpose of stating that Khrushchev was coming here.

Khrushchev has been throwing out hints for months that he was ready and willing to accept an invitation to visit the United States.

Until today, the public White House reaction had been cautious. But the possibility of a bid to the Soviet leader began building higher from the start of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's Soviet tour.

Obviously educated speculation that Nixon would recommend an invitation began to appear in dispatches by accompanying newsmen soon after Nixon reached Moscow.

Eisenhower told his news conference that he initiated formal discussions early in July leading to the agreement for an exchange of visits.

The President spoke of his move as aimed to melt a little of the ice which seems to freeze this country's relations with the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said it was his hope the exchange of visits might lead to a better understanding between the two countries and promote the cause of peace.

Eisenhower said Khrushchev, in addition to conducting informal talks with him, would be able to see some of this country. The President said his visit to the Soviet Union also would include visits outside Moscow.

The matter of an exchange of visits had been discussed with Western Allies, Eisenhower said, adding that they had agreed to

Stabbing At Moundsville

Inmate Confesses To Slaying At Pen

MOUNDSVILLE (AP) — A West Virginia penitentiary prisoner was stabbed to death Saturday and William K. Burchett, another inmate, admitted last night that he wielded the fatal knife.

Deputy Warden A. V. Dodrill said Sunday that a murder indictment against Burchett will be sought in Marshall County.

The victim was Bobby Lee Pennington, 25. He was stabbed just after the noon meal Saturday when 200 prisoners mingled in the hallway of a cellblock.

Dodrill said hard feelings apparently developed over a game of dominoes.

Burchett admitted he stabbed Pennington, Dodroll reported, after prison authorities had questioned some 100 prisoners.

The 29-year-old prisoner gave his confession voluntarily when confronted with evidence gathered during the investigation, Dodrill said.

Burchett is serving a sentence for a breaking and entering conviction in Marshall County. He first was sent to the penitentiary from Kanawha County in November, 1955, on a conviction of breaking and entering. He was paroled in January of 1957 but returned in February, 1958, for a new one to 10 years sentence.

A pen knife used to stab Pennington was found under a cabinet in the north hall section. Dodrill said he has not found out how Burchett obtained the knife.

Pennington first was sentenced to the penitentiary in July of 1952. He was convicted of breaking and entering in Braxton County. After parole in May, 1954, Pennington had to serve a three-year term in the Virginia penitentiary.

The dead man had returned to Moundsville in November 1957 to serve a 10-year sentence for a conviction of unarmed robbery in Kanawha County. He also was guilty of parole violation.

James Moss Files For City School Board

Rush Of Candidates Starts With 113 Now Entered For Nov. 3

A last-minute rush was under way today as nonpartisan candidates swamped the County Election Board with petitions for school board, township and village posts at the Nov. 3 general election.

Twenty-one new candidates entered over the weekend, boosting the number of aspirants to 113, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said. The deadline for filing is Wednesday at 4 p. m.

County commissioners certified a $989,000 bond issue for a new county home and a two-tenths-mill levy for the general health district.

New Waterford village submitted a $35,000 bond issue to complete a sanitary sewage improvement.

East Liverpool gained another candidate for a Board of Education seat as James B. Moss filed for re-election to a four-year term.

Moss, a potter, was active in school affairs before being elected in November 1955. He also is active in the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters and Trades & Labor Council.

New Waterford was assured of a mayoralty contest with two candidates entering for mayor and seven filing for six Council posts.

Seeking re-election to village posts were Mayor Earl F. Welch, Edward R. Bretz, clerk-treasurer, and Councilmen Carl J. Bretz, William E. Ferguson, Paul E. Cowan and Gilbert J. Mackall.

Joseph J. Fittante, now a councilman, filed to oppose Welch for mayor while newcomers seeking Council seats are C. William Manzo, Daniel J. Percy and Glenn C. Ward.

2 Hurt As Car Hits Another In Wrong Lane

West Point Woman, 71, Due Hearing In Yellow Creek Crash

Two persons were injured when the auto of a West Point woman entered the wrong lane of the new stretch of highway south of Wellsville near Yellow Creek and collided with another car Sunday afternoon.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said Mrs. Ida Balser, 71, was driving north when she entered the south-bound lane and struck an oncoming car driven by Arthur J. Jones of Steubenville.

Mrs. Christine Talbot of West Point received a bruised right hip and leg and Jones a bruised side. Mrs. Talbot was a passenger in Mrs. Balser's auto, the patrol said.

The mishap occurred at 3:25 p. m. near the Route 7 intersection with Route 213. Mrs. Balser was cited to appear before Jefferson County Judge Helen Huntsman of Toronto for unsafe operation, the patrol said.

In another accident investigated by the patrol over the weekend, the auto of Charles T. Gallaher, 28, of 519 Wells Hollow Rd., Wellsville, was demolished when it veered off the roadway near Brilliant at 10:30 p. m. Sunday and tore out some 25 feet of guardrail.

Gallaher was cited to appear Wednesday before Mayor Richard Foster of Rayland for unsafe operation. He posted a $20 bond. He suffered a small laceration of the left eye, the patrol said.

5 Receive Injuries In County Accidents

Four area weekend mishaps ranging from two upset motorcycles near Lisbon to a hit-skip crash on Route 7 caused minor injuries to five persons, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Quake Shakes Carolina And Georgia Area

By The Associated Press

An earthquake shook parts of Georgia and South Carolina early today.

No injuries or serious damage were reported.

The tremor was felt from Columbia, S.C. to Brunswick, Ga., 200 miles south of the South Carolina capital.

A state policeman at Columbia, Otis Hillyer, said he had been awakened when the police building shook. He said he thought there were two tremors a few seconds apart.

Two tremors also were reported at Augusta, Ga., where a home was shaken and beds rattled. At Savannah, Ga., about 120 miles southeast of Augusta, the quake was felt only slightly in downtown office buildings but distinctly in rural sections.

A rumble that sounded like an explosion was reported at Charleston, S.C., and within a 50-mile radius of the coastal city. The Weather Bureau said a building in Charleston shook for several minutes.

'Rebels' Stage Another Raid At Massillon

Gaming Equipment Grabbed On Eve Of State Investigation

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Rebel police Sunday seized nearly a half-ton of gambling equipment in a raid staged on the eve of the opening of a state investigation of vice in Stark County.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Joseph R. Ralston is due in Canton today to begin an investigation ordered by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. The evidence he obtains will be presented to a special grand jury later.

Seven rebel police, three of them off duty, staged Sunday's raid, acting on a tip they said they received from "a gambler." Capt. John T. Pettit, acting police chief, was not available when the tip was received, they said.

Mrs. Mary Wonsick, at whose home the raid was made, was arrested on a charge of possession of gambling devices, police said. She is a sister of Pete Rechel, identified by the officers as co-owner of Meinhart's Cigar Store.

Police said they found numerous punch boards, tip boards and trade boards in a garage at the rear of Mrs. Wonsick's home and a box of punchboards in the basement of the house. She denied knowledge of the items.

Rebel police staged their first raid July 1, hitting Meinhart's Cigar Store. Betting equipment was seized and Ellsworth Karrenbauer was arrested as operator of the place. The store was "clean" when another raid was staged there July 27, police said. The store was bombed on May 19.

Members of the rebel raiding group said Sunday night they would present formal charges against five members of the police force to Mayor Edgar L. Lash today. Details of the charges were not disclosed.

After Being Forced Down

4-Day Fight For Survival Described By Weary Flier

PAGE, Ariz. (AP) — "All the time I kept thinking of all my personal obligations and my many friends, and I just couldn't give up."

Daniel Reisman, 44, a Salt Lake City pilot, was telling Sunday of a four-day fight for survival that began Wednesday when his light, single-engine plane was forced down on an abandoned airstrip in southeastern Utah.

Speaking from a hospital bed at Page, Reisman told an amazing story of a two-day trek with no food and little water across a blistering desert and a dangerous ride down the turbulent Colorado River.

"I was forced off course by a storm and landed on a strip at an old uranium mine after nearly running out of fuel," he said.

"I knew I needed water and food, so I walked about five miles west that night. But I couldn't find any, so I came back to the plane.

"It started to drizzle Thursday. I wiped the wings of the plane with my handkerchief and then squeezed it into a cup. I managed to get about a cupful, then went to sleep under the wing.

"I later decided to walk east. I saw the Colorado River, but couldn't get down the sheer cliffs. I knew the Colorado just had to go to Glen Canyon Dam.

"Friday morning I saw a wash. When I got to the river, I made a raft of three logs and started floating. The raft turned over in rapids a couple of times, but it held together.

"I saw some planes Saturday, but they didn't see me. I thought they'd given up the search. Then I saw the boat."

Reisman was found by Earl Johnson, a river guide who was taking a group on a chartered boat trip up the Colorado. A helicopter later took the pilot off the boat and flew him to Page.

Doctors said he was suffering from exhaustion and malnutrition, but otherwise was in good condition.

Police Officer Swallowed By Hole In Street

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Is there such a thing as a lost stream?

A tragedy has revealed that there is.

It all started Saturday night when patrolman Joseph Reiss, 35, was checking a reported cave-in at a street intersection in northeastern Philadelphia.

Suddenly the earth below him crumbled without warning. He was swallowed into a gaping hole 43 feet deep, 60 feet long, and 60 feet wide. There has been no trace of him since.

City Water Commissioner Samuel Baxter said that the cave-in was caused by the collapse of an 11-foot arch over a forgotten stream that had been turned into a sewer 75 years ago.

Adm. Rickover Snubs Birthplace In Poland

Joint Meeting Held Again In Steel Dispute

Parleys Resumed After Sharp Public Rebuke By Mitchell

NEW YORK (AP) — In the wake of a sharp public rebuke by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, industry and union negotiators today hold their second joint session since the nationwide steel strike began July 15.

Today's meeting had been arranged by federal mediators before Mitchell accused both sides of failing to make serious efforts to settle their contract dispute.

Mitchell noted in Washington Saturday that the negotiators had met just once—and for only two hours — last Monday.

"This is no way to bargain," said Mitchell, who is serving as President Eisenhower's fact-finder in the strike. "They cannot reach agreement unless they talk to each other."

Spokesmen for the industry and the striking United Steelworkers of America denied they were not trying to reach agreement. They did not offer to alter their positions in the deadlock.

The industry called a news conference today — two hours before the joint bargaining session — in a move to support its contention that an increase in steel labor costs would spur inflation.

3 Are Believed Dead When Gas Well Burns

One man was killed, two are missing and presumed dead, and five were badly burned.

Temperatures To Rise Again After Cool Spell

Temperatures are bouncing back up today after one of the coolest weekends since early July. And the new warm spell may bring rain by Tuesday.

The Ohio weatherman said today was to be sunny and warmer with a high of 82 to 86 degrees and a low of 63 to 67 tonight. Tomorrow will be cloudy and warmer with scattered thundershowers.

The mercury climbed to only 79 degrees yesterday afternoon although skies were sunny. The overnight low was a rather cool 58, Dam 8 at Newell said.

Gaming Equipment Grabbed On Eve Of State Investigation

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Rebel police Sunday seized nearly a half-ton of gambling equipment in a raid staged on the eve of the opening of a state investigation of vice in Stark County.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Joseph R. Ralston is due in Canton today to begin an investigation ordered by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. The evidence he obtains will be presented to a special grand jury later.

Seven rebel police, three of them off duty, staged Sunday's raid, acting on a tip they said they received from "a gambler." Capt. John T. Pettit, acting police chief, was not available when the tip was received, they said.

Mrs. Mary Wonsick, at whose home the raid was made, was arrested on a charge of possession of gambling devices, police said. She is a sister of Pete Rechel, identified by the officers as co-owner of Meinhart's Cigar Store.

Police said they found numerous punch boards, tip boards and trade boards in a garage at the rear of Mrs. Wonsick's home and a box of punchboards in the basement of the house. She denied knowledge of the items.

Rebel police staged their first raid July 1, hitting Meinhart's Cigar Store. Betting equipment was seized and Ellsworth Karrenbauer was arrested as operator of the place. The store was "clean" when another raid was staged there July 27, police said. The store was bombed on May 19.

Members of the rebel raiding group said Sunday night they would present formal charges against five members of the police force to Mayor Edgar L. Lash today. Details of the charges were not disclosed.

After Being Forced Down

4-Day Fight For Survival Described By Weary Flier

PAGE, Ariz. (AP) — "All the time I kept thinking of all my personal obligations and my many friends, and I just couldn't give up."

Daniel Reisman, 44, a Salt Lake City pilot, was telling Sunday of a four-day fight for survival that began Wednesday when his light, single-engine plane was forced down on an abandoned airstrip in southeastern Utah.

Speaking from a hospital bed at Page, Reisman told an amazing story of a two-day trek with no food and little water across a blistering desert and a dangerous ride down the turbulent Colorado River.

"I was forced off course by a storm and landed on a strip at an old uranium mine after nearly running out of fuel," he said.

"I knew I needed water and food, so I walked about five miles west that night. But I couldn't find any, so I came back to the plane.

"It started to drizzle Thursday. I wiped the wings of the plane with my handkerchief and then squeezed it into a cup. I managed to get about a cupful, then went to sleep under the wing.

"I later decided to walk east. I saw the Colorado River, but couldn't get down the sheer cliffs. I knew the Colorado just had to go to Glen Canyon Dam.

"Friday morning I saw a wash. When I got to the river, I made a raft of three logs and started floating. The raft turned over in rapids a couple of times, but it held together.

"I saw some planes Saturday, but they didn't see me. I thought they'd given up the search. Then I saw the boat."

Reisman was found by Earl Johnson, a river guide who was taking a group on a chartered boat trip up the Colorado. A helicopter later took the pilot off the boat and flew him to Page.

Doctors said he was suffering from exhaustion and malnutrition, but otherwise was in good condition.

Police Officer Swallowed By Hole In Street

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Is there such a thing as a lost stream?

A tragedy has revealed that there is.

It all started Saturday night when patrolman Joseph Reiss, 35, was checking a reported cave-in at a street intersection in northeastern Philadelphia.

Suddenly the earth below him crumbled without warning. He was swallowed into a gaping hole 43 feet deep, 60 feet long, and 60 feet wide. There has been no trace of him since.

City Water Commissioner Samuel Baxter said that the cave-in was caused by the collapse of an 11-foot arch over a forgotten stream that had been turned into a sewer 75 years ago.

Joint Meeting Held Again In Steel Dispute

Parleys Resumed After Sharp Public Rebuke By Mitchell

NEW YORK (AP) — In the wake of a sharp public rebuke by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, industry and union negotiators today hold their second joint session since the nationwide steel strike began July 15.

Today's meeting had been arranged by federal mediators before Mitchell accused both sides of failing to make serious efforts to settle their contract dispute.

Mitchell noted in Washington Saturday that the negotiators had met just once—and for only two hours — last Monday.

"This is no way to bargain," said Mitchell, who is serving as President Eisenhower's fact-finder in the strike. "They cannot reach agreement unless they talk to each other."

Spokesmen for the industry and the striking United Steelworkers of America denied they were not trying to reach agreement. They did not offer to alter their positions in the deadlock.

The industry called a news conference today — two hours before the joint bargaining session — in a move to support its contention that an increase in steel labor costs would spur inflation.

3 Are Believed Dead When Gas Well Burns

HOUMA, La. (AP)—Oil crews today tried to choke out a fire burning in a gas well that blew out of control, wrecking a big drill rig valued at some 1½ million dollars.

One man was killed, two are missing and presumed dead, and five were badly burned.

Temperatures To Rise Again After Cool Spell

Temperatures are bouncing back up today after one of the coolest weekends since early July. And the new warm spell may bring rain by Tuesday.

The Ohio weatherman said today was to be sunny and warmer with a high of 82 to 86 degrees and a low of 63 to 67 tonight. Tomorrow will be cloudy and warmer with scattered thundershowers.

The mercury climbed to only 79 degrees yesterday afternoon although skies were sunny. The overnight low was a rather cool 58, Dam 8 at Newell said.

Driver Splits Court Verdicts

A New Cumberland youth, arrested July 13 following a crash on Dresden Ave. that damaged two cars and the porch of a home, was convicted Saturday in Municipal Court on one charge but was found not guilty on another.

Robert O. Sandy, 19, of 3rd Ave., New Cumberland, was fined $10 and costs by Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp on a charge of driving left of center. Judge Kapp found Sandy not guilty of driving without a driver's license and his $31 bond was refunded.

Sandy was cited by police after a collision with a car driven by Richard Laughlin of St. Clair Ave., who was fined and jailed earlier for drunk driving.

Oren Leon Watkins, 22, of 211 Walnut St., was fined $25 and costs today by Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw for driving without an operator's permit.

Police cited Watkins Saturday night at E. 2nd and Washington Sts., claiming he had a West Virginia driver's license but had lived in East Liverpool for a year and had failed to obtain an Ohio permit. Under a reciprocal agreement with West Virginia, motorists have 90 days in which to obtain a permit when they moved from one state to another, police said.

Kenneth W. Riddle, 1146 Hillcrest Rd., Wellsville, forfeited a $16 bond on a State Highway Patrol charge of speeding Saturday night on Route 7.

Three other drivers also cited Saturday night for the same offense, are due for hearings later this week.

Robert A. Risher, 451 Ray St., and Carl F. Lee, 1227 Clover St., Wellsville, are due for hearings Friday and Ralph R. Springer, 221 E. 4th St., is scheduled to appear Saturday.

James Leslie Merriman, 243 Wells Ave., Wellsville, forfeited $16 today for using a loud muffler on his vehicle Saturday night on Pennsylvania Ave. It marked the second time in a few days that Merriman was cited, police said, explaining he was arrested on a similar charge Thursday night on Broadway and forfeited a $16 bond Friday morning.

Delighted, Parents Say

Rockefeller, Former Maid Will Wed In Late August

KRISTIANSAND, Norway (AP) —Steven Rockefeller and a former maid in his wealthy family's home plan a late summer wedding in a small Lutheran church in Norway.

Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said they are delighted at their son's engagement to Anne Marie Rasmussen, 21, pretty blonde daughter of a prosperous Kristiansand grocer.

"She is a wonderful girl," the governor said.

Announcing their engagement Sunday, the young couple did not set a wedding date. But a friend of the Rasmussen family said it would probably be Aug. 22.

It will be performed by the Rev. Olav Gautestad in the Lutheran Church at nearby Soegne. The pastor is an old friend of the Rasmussens. The Rockefellers are Baptists.

The governor has indicated he and his wife will come to Scandinavia for the wedding.

Steven, 23, and the third of his parents' five children, first met Anne Marie when she came to the United States in 1956 to learn English and worked for a time as a maid in his home. She left the Rockefeller employ in 1957 to work in a New York department store, then worked for an insurance firm in New York.

After serving an army hitch, young Rockefeller flew to Oslo July 10 and met Anne Marie. They came on to her home by motorcycle, and the romance rumors have been booming ever since.

Young Rockefeller, a graduate of Princeton university, said he will return to New York in September and enter one of his family's businesses.

"This will change my life completely," Anne Marie said. "everything will become different for me, but what I have brought with me from the home of my childhood will always remain with me. I will remain the one I am."

Thomas J. Rice, 58, of Maple Dr., Calcutta, told officers an unidentified car struck his auto on Route 7 about 3 miles north of the intersection with Route 30 in Madison Township Saturday night at 8. Rice said the other northbound auto hit his, causing minor damage, but did not stop.

Carl Hartz, 20, of Carnegie, and Robert Peffer, 19, of Huston, Pa., were treated at Salem Central Clinic yesterday afternoon after their motorcycles upset along Route 30 a mile south of Lisbon.

The two were riding side-by-side en route to a "drag meet" near Salem when Hart's cycle began to vibrate and he lost control and flipped over. In order to avoid hitting Hartz, Peffer skidded his cycle to a stop on its crash bar.

They were treated for minor arm and leg abrasions, and continued on to the meet at a private strip along Route 165 north of Salem, the patrol said.

James Blackburn, 32, of Hanoverton R. D. 2 was arrested after his car was involved in a head-on crash on Route 172 about 8 miles west of Lisbon at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, injuring himself and a small boy.

The patrol said Blackburn rounded a curve left of center and hit an oncoming auto driven by Berman McKinley, 24, of Leetonia R. D. 1. Blackburn suffered a cut of the left arm and body bruises, and Perry McKinley, 4, passenger in the other car, received chest contusions. They were treated at Salem Central Clinic.

Blackburn was charged with driving while intoxicated and is due for a hearing tonight at Salem.

Joseph Gaskins, 37, of Beaver and Thomas Bell, 9, of Five Points, Pa., were treated Sunday at 12:10 a. m. at City Hospital following an auto accident at an intersection of the Fairview Rd. near Midland.

Gaskins received multiple scratches of the face and neck and lacerations of the chin. The boy received a bump on the chin. Area police had no report of the accident.

City Jeweler Hit 10th Time By Shoplifter

Reporting he was a victim of a shoplifter for the 10th time this year, Robert Schlang, owner of the I. R. Roberts, Inc., jewelry store, warned merchants today to beware of a shoplifter.

Schlang said he noticed a rose zircon ring valued at $13.95 missing from a tray about 11:30 a. m. Saturday, recalling he had displayed the ring to a woman shortly before.

The theft was reported to police this morning. Police said they were told the birthstone ring was valued at $14.95.

Schlang said it was the 10th loss this year to shoplifters but said not all of the other items were reported to police "because they were small." He said he acted to warn other merchants.

Motorist, 72 Denies Drunk Driving Case

A 72-year-old city motorist today denied a drunk driving charge filed in Municipal Court as the aftermath of a collision late Sunday night on Dresden Ave. with a Warren woman's rented station wagon.

Samuel Carson, 124 W. 2nd St., pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge George L. Brokaw, who set his hearing for 9 a. m. Tuesday.

Carson was arrested by police after his southbound car crossed the center line on Dresden Ave. at McKee St. and struck the station wagon operated by Mrs. Georgia M. Weekley, 29, of Warren.

Mrs. Weekley told police she saw Carson's car weaving on the highway and she pulled to the right of the road. However, Carson crossed over into her lane and struck the left side of her vehicle. The accident occurred shortly before 11 p. m.

Three vehicles were damaged in a two-car crash Saturday night at 11 at the intersection of St. Clair and Maplewood Aves.

The collision involved a stopped foreign sports car operated by James N. Porter, 40, of Cain Heights, a 1959 sedan driven by Carl E. Hoppel, 16, of R. D. 2, and a parked 1958 hardtop owned by Frank Haynes, also of R. D. 2.

Porter said Hoppel's car struck the left front end of his car halted to make a turn while Hoppel claimed Porter pulled in front of him at the intersection, police were told.

Hoppel said he swerved but Porter's auto struck the right side of his car and he crossed the street and hit Haynes' parked car.

Dorothy C. Robinson, 25, of 1843 Michigan Ave. was fined $10 and costs in Municipal Court today for failing to stop within the assured clear distance as the result of an accident early Saturday afternoon.

She was cited after her car struck the rear of a stopped car operated by Barbara F. Skrinjar, 39, of the Campground Rd., Wellsville. The mishap happened at 12:13 p. m. at Pennsylvania and Oakland Aves., police said.

Criminal Libel Case Handed County Court

BEAVER — Complaints of criminal libel against Charles C. Smith, Pennsylvania auditor general, J. Alexander Jacobs, his deputy, and Ralph Temples, managing editor of the Beaver Valley Times, were handed in to the Beaver County clerk of courts office this morning by Squire Raymond Solero.

The trio is also charged with conspiracy to falsely accuse of a crime and in addition, Smith and Jacobs are charged with furnishing libelous statements. Sam Neff, former Beaver County democratic chairman recently fired from his state job filed the charges.

All three men previously waived hearing for action of the Beaver County Grand Jury which meets in September. Neff was fired after charges were made by Smith of alleged shakedowns of contractors in Beaver County in connection with the State Highway Department.

Suspect Returned In Industry Case

A former Aliquippa man, alleged to have taken about $3,200 from several households in Industry Township in March, 1958, while impersonating a FBI officer, has been returned to face the September Grand Jury, Chief E. J. Hineman of Industry said.

Robert Blaney, 34, was returned to Beaver County Saturday by Hineman and Steve Mihalic, county detective, from the Federal Penitentiary at Springfield, Mo. Hineman said Blaney will face three charges of burglary and robbery.

The chief said Blaney and Jerry Covolli, 40, impersonated FBI agents and conducted a search of several houses in the area of a brick yard and took about $3,200 including the savings of Mike Vaslaine, now of Beaver Falls, who worked at the yard.

Hineman said Blaney was caught in Chicago and served 18 months in the Springfield pen on the impersonating charge. Hineman said Covelli is believed to be in a Texas jail after fleeing Chicago in a stolen car.

Flare Saves 2 After Crash In Glacier Area

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — A single smoke flare, saved for use at just the right moment, brought rescue Sunday to two men marooned seven nights and days high on the barren face of an Alaska glacier.

The flare was sighted by a helicopter pilot participating in a week-old sea and air search over the mountains and through the valleys and inlets of rugged Glacier Bay National Monument.

Although the two were saved, the body of a third man remained with the wreckage of a helicopter in which they crashed last Sunday at the 5,800-foot level Gilman Glacier.

Dead was Robert Baldwin of Ridgefield, Conn., a geophysicist for the Newmont Exploration Co., Ltd., of New York City. Another helicopter was to remove the body today.

Bearded and weary, bruised but otherwise not seriously hurt, were Robert Sheldon and Melvin Guerrera. They survived through chilling temperatures and heavy rain with the aid of a sleeping bag and emergency food rations.

"The first thing they wanted were baths," said Dr. Joseph O. Rude, who treated the men at Juneau's St. Anne's Hospital.

"There's nothing seriously wrong," he said, "nothing a few days rest and food won't fix."

Driver Splits Court Verdicts

A New Cumberland youth, arrested July 13 following a crash on Dresden Ave. that damaged two cars and the porch of a home, was convicted Saturday in Municipal Court on one charge but was found not guilty on another.

Robert O. Sandy, 19, of 3rd Ave., New Cumberland, was fined $10 and costs by Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp on a charge of driving left of center. Judge Kapp found Sandy not guilty of driving without a driver's license and his $31 bond was refunded.

Sandy was cited by police after a collision with a car driven by Richard Laughlin of St. Clair Ave., who was fined and jailed earlier for drunk driving.

Oren Leon Watkins, 22, of 211 Walnut St., was fined $25 and costs today by Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw for driving without an operator's permit.

Police cited Watkins Saturday night at E. 2nd and Washington Sts., claiming he had a West Virginia driver's license but had lived in East Liverpool for a year and had failed to obtain an Ohio permit. Under a reciprocal agreement with West Virginia, motorists have 90 days in which to obtain a permit when they moved from one state to another, police said.

Kenneth W. Riddle, 1146 Hillcrest Rd., Wellsville, forfeited a $16 bond on a State Highway Patrol charge of speeding Saturday night on Route 7.

Three other drivers also cited Saturday night for the same offense, are due for hearings later this week.

Robert A. Risher, 451 Ray St., and Carl F. Lee, 1227 Clover St., Wellsville, are due for hearings Friday and Ralph R. Springer, 221 E. 4th St., is scheduled to appear Saturday.

James Leslie Merriman, 243 Wells Ave., Wellsville, forfeited $16 today for using a loud muffler on his vehicle Saturday night on Pennsylvania Ave. It marked the second time in a few days that Merriman was cited, police said, explaining he was arrested on a similar charge Thursday night on Broadway and forfeited a $16 bond Friday morning.

Delighted, Parents Say

Rockefeller, Former Maid Will Wed In Late August

KRISTIANSAND, Norway (AP) —Steven Rockefeller and a former maid in his wealthy family's home plan a late summer wedding in a small Lutheran church in Norway.

Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said they are delighted at their son's engagement to Anne Marie Rasmussen, 21, pretty blonde daughter of a prosperous Kristiansand grocer.

"She is a wonderful girl," the governor said.

Announcing their engagement Sunday, the young couple did not set a wedding date. But a friend of the Rasmussen family said it would probably be Aug. 22.

It will be performed by the Rev. Olav Gautestad in the Lutheran Church at nearby Soegne. The pastor is an old friend of the Rasmussens. The Rockefellers are Baptists.

The governor has indicated he and his wife will come to Scandinavia for the wedding.

Steven, 23, and the third of his parents' five children, first met Anne Marie when she came to the United States in 1956 to learn English and worked for a time as a maid in his home. She left the Rockefeller employ in 1957 to work in a New York department store, then worked for an insurance firm in New York.

After serving an army hitch, young Rockefeller flew to Oslo July 10 and met Anne Marie. They came on to her home by motorcycle, and the romance rumors have been booming ever since.

Young Rockefeller, a graduate of Princeton university, said he will return to New York in September and enter one of his family's businesses.

"This will change my life completely," Anne Marie said. "everything will become different for me, but what I have brought with me from the home of my childhood will always remain with me. I will remain the one I am."

other auto on Route 164 a mile south of Columbiana last night at 9.

Soldo suffered a wrist injury when his car rammed one operated by Walter Kellner, 26, of North Lima R. D., who had slowed for traffic ahead. The patrol cited Soldo for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Thomas J. Rice, 58, of Maple Dr., Calcutta, told officers an unidentified car struck his auto on Route 7 about 3 miles north of the intersection with Route 30 in Madison Township Saturday night at 8. Rice said the other northbound auto hit his, causing minor damage, but did not stop.

Carl Hartz, 20, of Carnegie, and Robert Peffer, 19, of Huston, Pa., were treated at Salem Central Clinic yesterday afternoon after their motorcycles upset along Route 30 a mile south of Lisbon.

The two were riding side-by-side en route to a "drag meet" near Salem when Hart's cycle began to vibrate and he lost control and flipped over. In order to avoid hitting Hartz, Peffer skidded his cycle to a stop on its crash bar.

They were treated for minor arm and leg abrasions, and continued on to the meet at a private strip along Route 165 north of Salem, the patrol said.

James Blackburn, 32, of Hanoverton R. D. 2 was arrested after his car was involved in a head-on crash on Route 172 about 8 miles west of Lisbon at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, injuring himself and a small boy.

The patrol said Blackburn rounded a curve left of center and hit an oncoming auto driven by Berman McKinley, 24, of Leetonia R. D. 1. Blackburn suffered a cut of the left arm and body bruises, and Perry McKinley, 4, passenger in the other car, received chest contusions. They were treated at Salem Central Clinic.

Blackburn was charged with driving while intoxicated and is due for a hearing tonight at Salem.

Smiths Ferry Girl Injured In Collision

Judy Reed, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, was treated Saturday night at Rochester General Hospital.

Pennsylvanians Hurt In Midland Area Crash

Joseph Gaskins, 37, of Beaver and Thomas Bell, 9, of Five Points, Pa., were treated Sunday at 12:10 a. m. at City Hospital following an auto accident at an intersection of the Fairview Rd. near Midland.

Gaskins received multiple scratches of the face and neck and lacerations of the chin. The boy received a bump on the chin. Area police had no report of the accident.

City Jeweler Hit 10th Time By Shoplifter

Reporting he was a victim of a shoplifter for the 10th time this year, Robert Schlang, owner of the I. R. Roberts, Inc., jewelry store, warned merchants today to beware of a shoplifter.

Schlang said he noticed a rose zircon ring valued at $13.95 missing from a tray about 11:30 a. m. Saturday, recalling he had displayed the ring to a woman shortly before.

The theft was reported to police this morning. Police said they were told the birthstone ring was valued at $14.95.

Schlang said it was the 10th loss this year to shoplifters but said not all of the other items were reported to police "because they were small." He said he acted to warn other merchants.

Motorist, 72 Denies Drunk Driving Case

A 72-year-old city motorist today denied a drunk driving charge filed in Municipal Court as the aftermath of a collision late Sunday night on Dresden Ave. with a Warren woman's rented station wagon.

Samuel Carson, 124 W. 2nd St., pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge George L. Brokaw, who set his hearing for 9 a. m. Tuesday.

Carson was arrested by police after his southbound car crossed the center line on Dresden Ave. at McKee St. and struck the station wagon operated by Mrs. Georgia M. Weekley, 29, of Warren.

Mrs. Weekley told police she saw Carson's car weaving on the highway and she pulled to the right of the road. However, Carson crossed over into her lane and struck the left side of her vehicle. The accident occurred shortly before 11 p. m.

Three vehicles were damaged in a two-car crash Saturday night at 11 at the intersection of St. Clair and Maplewood Aves.

The collision involved a stopped foreign sports car operated by James N. Porter, 40, of Cain Heights, a 1959 sedan driven by Carl E. Hoppel, 16, of R. D. 2, and a parked 1958 hardtop owned by Frank Haynes, also of R. D. 2.

Porter said Hoppel's car struck the left front end of his car halted to make a turn while Hoppel claimed Porter pulled in front of him at the intersection, police were told.

Hoppel said he swerved but Porter's auto struck the right side of his car and he crossed the street and hit Haynes' parked car.

Dorothy C. Robinson, 25, of 1848 Michigan Ave. was fined $10 and costs in Municipal Court today for failing to stop within the assured clear distance as the result of an accident early Saturday afternoon.

She was cited after her car struck the rear of a stopped car operated by Barbara F. Skrinjar, 39, of the Campground Rd., Wellsville. The mishap happened at 12:13 p. m. at Pennsylvania and Oakland Aves., police said.

Criminal Libel Case Handed County Court

BEAVER — Complaints of criminal libel against Charles C. Smith, Pennsylvania auditor general, J. Alexander Jacobs, his deputy, and Ralph Temples, managing editor of the Beaver Valley Times, were handed in to the Beaver County clerk of courts office this morning by Squire Raymond Solero.

The trio is also charged with conspiracy to falsely accuse of a crime and in addition, Smith and Jacobs are charged with furnishing libelous statements. Sam Neff, former Beaver County democratic chairman recently fired from his state job filed the charges.

All three men previously waived hearing for action of the Beaver County Grand Jury which meets in September. Neff was fired after charges were made by Smith of alleged shakedowns of contractors in Beaver County in connection with the State Highway Department.

Suspect Returned In Industry Case

A former Aliquippa man, alleged to have taken about $3,200 from several households in Industry Township in March, 1958, while impersonating a FBI officer, has been returned to face the September Grand Jury, Chief E. J. Hineman of Industry said.

Robert Blaney, 34, was returned to Beaver County Saturday by Hineman and Steve Mihalic, county detective, from the Federal Penitentiary at Springfield, Mo. Hineman said Blaney will face three charges of burglary and robbery.

The chief said Blaney and Jerry Covolli, 40, impersonated FBI agents and conducted a search of several houses in the area of a brick yard and took about $3,200 including the savings of Mike Vaslaine, now of Beaver Falls, who worked at the yard.

Hineman said Blaney was caught in Chicago and served 18 months in the Springfield pen on the impersonating charge. Hineman said Covelli is believed to be in a Texas jail after fleeing Chicago in a stolen car.

Blaney has a wife living in Pittsburgh, Hineman said.

Flare Saves 2 After Crash In Glacier Area

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — A single smoke flare, saved for use at just the right moment, brought rescue Sunday to two men marooned seven nights and days high on the barren face of an Alaska glacier.

The flare was sighted by a helicopter pilot participating in a week-old sea and air search over the mountains and through the valleys and inlets of rugged Glacier Bay National Monument.

Although the two were saved, the body of a third man remained with the wreckage of a helicopter in which they crashed last Sunday at the 5,800-foot level Gilman Glacier.

Dead was Robert Baldwin of Ridgefield, Conn., a geophysicist for the Newmont Exploration Co., Ltd., of New York City. Another helicopter was to remove the body today.

Bearded and weary, bruised but otherwise not seriously hurt, were Robert Sheldon and Melvin Guerrera. They survived through chilling temperatures and heavy rain with the aid of a sleeping bag and emergency food rations.

"The first thing they wanted were baths," said Dr. Joseph O. Rude, who treated the men at Juneau's St. Anne's Hospital.

"There's nothing seriously wrong," he said, "nothing a few days rest and food won't fix."

Steel Imports Dig Deeper

When foreign competition is mentioned in the East Liverpool district the pottery industry comes to mind immediately.

No pottery worker or manufacturer needs to be reminded of the damage that the imports of cheaper ware have caused.

A report in the Wall Street Journal now raises a question as to whether the steel industry may be heading down the same road.

The article includes these ominous facts:

"Broad interest in foreign steel is helping push steel imports to record levels. U. S. steel companies and many American steel users say the current steel strike is only speeding a trend that already was picking up momentum for a more basic reason; Foreign steel-makers on many steel items simply are offering lower prices than their U.S. competitors.

"Although figures are not yet available, imports in the first half of 1959 seem sure to have exceeded the 1.7 million tons imported in all of 1958.

"Imports reflect only a part of the loss of business by U.S. steelworkers. Exports of U.S. mills are slipping, as imports rise. And indirect steel imports in the form of machine tools, automobiles, typewriters, farm tractors, screen doors, steel tanks and a host of other steel products are rising too.

"Exports of steel mill products in the first five months of 1959, the latest period for which precise figures are available, totaled 850,000 tons, down 37 per cent from a year earlier. Imports in the same period were 1.5 million tons, up 224 per cent from the corresponding 1958 period, reports the American Iron and Steel Institute, New York-headquartered trade association for the steel industry.

"For six months, through May, imports have exceeded exports, each month this pattern runs counter to all experience.

"We've had five previous strikes and never before have steel imports exceeded exports in this manner," says an official of the United States Steel Corp. "Net imports have been increasing steadily since last December. That can't be something due just to the strike.

"Foreign steel imports are of special importance today because they have been injected into the current labor strife in steel. Industry contends high labor costs price domestic producers out of export markets and invite competitive imports. The Steelworkers Union argues imports are too insignificant beside domestic output to rate much attention. The industry agrees imports this year are likely to amount to less than 5 per cent of domestic production but contends the growth of this percentage is a matter for deep concern."

The report, in continuing, offers this observation by R. L. Gray, president of the Armco Steel Corp.: "At Armco we do not believe that it would be wise to keep foreign steel out of the U.S. by use of high tariffs. There is only one sound way to compete. That is by reducing our cost of production. The time has come for labor leaders and management to join in working to preserve the jobs of American steelworkers from destruction by foreign competition."

In view of the pottery story, it would seem time to do that very thing.

Is The Chase Worth The Damage?

Here is an incident reported over and over again by newspapers.

A police patrol squad begins to chase a fleeing driver. The driver is fleeing because he has done something wrong. Otherwise, he would stop.

Both cars pick up speed. Suddenly, a potential disaster is in the making. Panic and anger have been substituted for logic and reason. One bad move and a serious accident happens.

Speeding cars smash into obstacles. If shooting has been added to the risk of insanely reckless driving, bullets may thud into the bodies of bystanders. There is no foreseeable limit to the possibilities of death and injury.

It happened a few days ago in Cleveland. At one time, 10 police cruisers were chasing a car driven by a car thief. Eight civilian automobiles and one cruiser were damaged. The car thief was hit by bullets three times. Four innocent persons were hurt in collisions. A passenger bus was involved in one accident.

The story is familiar. It happens over and over again — the fleeing suspect with everything to gain and nothing to lose by making a wild dash for freedom and the determined pursuers risking their necks and public security in hot pursuit.

We doubt if the chase is worth the damage it causes in most cases. We doubt it particularly if one or more of the policeman pursuers must be listed among the casualties. It would be wonderful to run all miscreants to ground. But there is a price that is too high to pay to pick up the ordinary run of suspects. If they cannot be run to ground safely, they are not worth the risk of running them to ground hazardously. Public security is hurt more than it is helped.

Wild chases in automobiles should be reserved for movies made circa 1920, when the pursued and the pursuer had the roads pretty much to themselves.

Faulty Leadership

By Frank Tripp

There seems a growing defeatist attitude among the electorate. A "what's the use, they all soak us" attitude that spawns public apathy and mercenary leadership.

The old vigilance that kept leaders on their toes and democracy in action has given way to docile submission to clique domination of peoples' affairs—by politicians, unions, do-gooders, wasters and "isms." Have Americans surrendered?

History reveals only two ways that peoples have thrown off the shackles of tax oppression. It has been by the ballot or by revolution. Either way it has been the people who had to do it—and it took guts.

Always it has been greed of leaders for power and the spoils of victory that brought the crisis; and always the people have been caught in the trap by deception and promises.

THE TAX enslavement of a people, the disintegration of an economy or the fall of a government invariably has been the result of extravagance, a fools' paradise, in which America now is wallowing.

Our fools' paradise promises unearned leisure and plenty, which can last only as long as the peoples savings last or their production exceeds their expenditures. Credit only mortgages the future.

This is just as true of government, federal, state and local, as it is of a family's empty purse, its job insecurity—and its ultimate bankruptcy.

The hoax for which the thoughtless have fallen is that there is a shiftless way to preserve America's way of life and its freedom: that they can consume and live up more than they produce, both as a family and a nation.

To perpetuate themselves in office and power, leaders in government and of unions have set up a phony economy that is nearing a breaking point.

The government by waste, extravagance and give-aways that drain the people; the unions by wage demands to meet the drain, and restricted production to make things worse and living costs higher. A vicious spiral, heading for disaster.

Nowhere does anybody stop the extravagance that has the economy hanging on the ropes; a world of gimmie nations mocking us, Russia cold-warring us into bankruptcy—and submission to their terms.

THE BALLOT method of escape has worked only when candidates and parties have stood for something other than greed for office. Four years from 1960 could be too late.

Sooner than that the joy ride must end, the fiddler must be paid and America go back to work; pay its debts and salvage what is left of the heritage which the toil and the blood of its founders left us.

Where is the candidate and the platform that puts the country above party and patronage? Must a great nation die on a cross of greed, politics and inflation?

All that we hear about is political expediency that will lead to party victory in 1960. Isn't there a patriot left in America who would rather be right than be president?

If not, let's capitulate and get it over with; for we must find a savior who will stop the spending—or else.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Inflation can cost the average American his shirt. But he's so stupid he thinks he is covered by federal shirt and pants insurance. He is an odd bird who thinks he is ahead if he gets twice what his old man got and spends three times as much to make both ends meet.

He believes the mint is a self filling Washington bureau operated by dependable vaudeville magicians.

You can break a dozen eggs, separate yoiks from whites and prove that this doesn't produce a dozen omelettes but his answer will be, "Who cares? I ordered wheat cakes and sausage."

He can yawn at a headline, "U.S. Faces Economic Crisis" and put on a hi-fi recording during a broadcast that federal debt is at a new high. He can phone for a dance lesson during a radio announcement that Uncle Sam has just given 100 trillion dollars to the Bullgovanians to help straighten out THEIR MONEY PROBLEM!!!

TELL HIM that $10 minus $6 equals $4 and he replies, "Not if I have a credit card." Point out that if he gets $75 a week and the groceries come to $80, his reaction will be, "It doesn't bother me so long as I do my worrying by auto and have 14 more payments to go."

He has heard about inflation in other nations during which a man or woman had to take a wheelbarrow load of money to the market for a cinnamon bun but he says, "That was due to boll weevils, climate and a shortage of aspirin pills. The guy mistakes a dead end street sign for E Pluribus Unum and thinks "mathematics" is a Chinese word meaning "Turn in your old car. The ashtray

He is looking for trouble. And he is getting his order in early.

According to one recent survey, 33.5 million American families now spend about 2.3 billion man-hours per week watching television. This is more than the amount of time devoted to earning a living in the same household—1.9 billion man-hours.

One of the oldest of garden vegetables is the cucumber, it being mentioned in the Old Testament and having been known at least 3,000 years ago. Many varieties of this edible are cultivated, with the fruit from two inches to two feet in length.

Anxious Waiting

Reds Train New Kenya Terrorists

By Victor Riesel

NAIROBI, Africa

Despite the noisy bars, the hot jazz of the Equator Club and the sneering at those mobile dude ranches as silken safaris for the suckers, this is a frightened city. When you're alone with those who know, they confide that they believe the Mau Mau will strike again under a different terroristic tag — but a secret society by any other name can be just as deadly.

Victor Riesel

They tell you the Mau Mau itself has been smashed. But special government units still search the Aberdare Mountains for 100 of the organization's toughest killers. Only three weeks ago the colony's trackers brought in two of the old Mau Mau leaders. This pair joined some 750 others still in prison camps.

About 95 of them are in special detention for they are particularly hardened. Some day the governor will have to release them and some day they will be the cadres for a new secret society, already believed launched.

There always have been secret societies among the 1½ million Kikuyus. Most of this vast tribe, however, are loyal and that's why the Mau Mau terrorists had to kill 10,000 fellow Africans to keep the rest in line.

THERE ARE MANY responsible settlers and government people who believe that the mass slaughter was ordered by a secret Communist cell. These same sources believe that a similar cell will reorganize the hard core into tough new units and order new terror the moment the Soviets think strategic for their moves down East Africa.

No one outside of the intelligence services can prove this. But I believe it. Tell you why. Here is a part of the Mau Mau story which has not yet been disclosed:

Back in 1929 there was something called the Kenya African Union. Most of its activities were secret. It had units stretching across Kenya. It strong-armed many a peaceful Kikuyu to raise money for its paid officials. Yet after a while the African Union obviously had more money than it could squeeze from the agricultural Kikuyus.

Sometime at the beginning of the big war, one of the union's officials, a 40-year-old Kikuyu called Jomo Kenyatta (an alias), took off for Moscow. There he "studied."

At war's end, when many Africans were shipped back to this continent by the Russians, Jomo Kenyatta returned too. He shared a ship cabin with a comrade named Semakulu Mulumba, who went into nearby Uganda. Riots followed Mulumba's arrival in Uganda, carefully planned riots which ended when the British exiled him.

MEANWHILE, Kenyatta returned to the Kenya African unit. There he joined with Chege Kibichia, the big chief of the Kenya African Union. Shortly after that there suddenly was organized a band of strong-arm men inside the Kenya African Union called the "Forties." From this muscle outfit came the Mau Mau.

In 1947 Kenyatta also began organizing a Kenyawide labor organization. He operated on Communist tactical lines. Soon this labor base was turned into a tough cell-like network by Jomo Kenyatta, now the Mau Mau leader.

It took him some three years to be ready to hit. He did. The killings started when responsible Kikuyu chiefs refused to permit their tribes to be sewn into the Mau Mau structure.

At the height of the terror, the Mau Maus had 16,000 killers, arsonists, knife artists and just plain troops in the forests. This was told to me by Michael Blundell, one of Kenya's great leaders who fought the Mau Mau.

There were three Mau Mau oaths. These have been described in fine fiction and news stories. But a special report to a British parliamentary investigation commission has never made the press. It describes the oaths as a process which can only be talked of as brainwashing—the typical Communist technique.

"A very clever man, a man knowing the psychology of his people, their superstitions, their fear of witchcraft, must have made the plan," the report said.

"The killing oath was the answer. It has been possible to transform the human being into a new frame of mind unknown and never met by me (the reporting psychologist) before. After having taken three or more oaths, the personality of the oathtaker changed. It is not insanity . . . but the person is not sane in the normal sense of the word . . ."

KENYATTA was finally caught and tried. His lawyers included a prominent pro-Soviet British barrister. After the trial, a witness by the name of Macharia pulled a Harvey Matusow. The witness called himself a liar and said he had given false testimony. It was this technique which Matusow used in the States to cripple much of our government's drive against the American Communists.

Kenyatta is 60 years old now and exiled to a rocky isolated area. But there are many here who believe the same forces are readying a new terrorist leader.

Multi-Headed Party

By Raymond Moley

The Democratic chairman's feud with his party's leaders in Congress, while somewhat quieted by Speaker Rayburn's mediation, still leaaves unanswered the old question of who really leads an American party.

There is a national chairman, who is technically responsible to the members of the national committee representatives of the various states. Traditionally he is, in fact, chosen by the party candidate for president every four years. Sometimes, as in the case of Paul Butler, he holds over even after his candidate for president has been defeated.

In cases in which the party's candidate is elected president, the national chairman is usually given a job in the federal administration. There is generally no doubt about who is head of a party which has the White House. The president is the boss.

BUT IN A CASE like that prevailing in the present Democratic party, there is bound to be confusion. Butler owes nothing to the Democratic congressional leaders, Johnson and Rayburn. Neither do they regard Butler as a leader.

An unfortunate weakness of the American party system is the fact that there is no authentic party philosophy which should command the allegiance of all members of the party.

The party platform is meaningless when it is issued at a national convention and is soon forgotten after the election. There is nothing between elections to create such a statement of policy.

Perhaps the best model of an organized party is that of the Conservatives in Britain. It is a very old party, dating back more than a century.

There have been many reorganizations of the party, especially since the bad defeat suffered in 1945. The line of authority is clear since under a parliamentary government the executive and legislative power are united in the party group in the House of Commons.

That settles the leadership question. The leader in Parliament is the leader of the party.

In order to keep the parliamentary members and the leader in touch with the rank and file in matters of policy, there is what is called the National Union. It is a federal organization consisting of representatives of the many constituency associations over the country.

It has a membership of nearly three million, which is about one-quarter of the party vote in a general election.

The functions of the Union are chiefly advisory and deliberative. Once a year the Union holds a conference to which about 3,600 representatives come from the constituencies. Here policies are discussed for three days and resolutions are passed.

The parliamentary leader does not participate, except to give a speech at the conclusion of the meetings. Other party leaders also make speeches.

TO AVOID ANY CONFUSION in organization, the head of the central party machinery is responsible only to the parliamentary leader. The central office is London prepares literature, arranges speeches in campaigns for the party leaders and advises the agents in the constituencies.

It has no direct power over the agents, who are selected by the constituency associations. But they generally work in complete harmony with the central office and the party chairman.

It is this sort of general liaison among the party leaders in Congress, the administration when the party is in power, and the state and local party organizations that the American system lacks.

It lacks also any determination at an annual meeting of party policies.

Both Republicans and Democrats have sorely lacked this sort of organized party unity. If we had such a plan, the Butler-Johnson-Rayburn wrangle might never have happened. As it is, there is no clear definition of what a national party is in America, or of who are the leaders.

Ike's Ideas On Diplomacy

By James Marlow

He Remembers Napoleon And Alexander

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower's ideas on diplomacy go back to the 19th century. That explains in part his lack of eagerness for a summit conference and the great, free-rein he gave his late secretary of state, John Foster Dulles.

Some of his views, not stated publicly, can be given here on excellent authority. Others he has expressed at his news conferences. His ideas are in the numbered paragraphs below.

1. He does not like the modern development of diplomacy—summit conferences—and considers it a step backward for the heads of state to spend their time on work that belongs to specialists, like foreign ministers.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is the advocate of summit conferences. Now British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan backs the idea. Khrushchev considers foreign ministers messenger boys and says only the heavyweights can get things done.

2. Eisenhower prefers seeing foreign ministers enjoy the exercise of the great authority given them in the 19th century. He says their governments normally try to establish limits within which they can negotiate.

Dulles, who ran American foreign affairs like a one-man show, was given a freer hand by Eisenhower than any American Secretary of State enjoyed in this century. But he insisted that Eisenhower approve every move before he made it.

3. Eisenhower considers the congress of Vienna in 1814-15, called to reorganize Europe, after the downfall of Napoleon, an example of foreign ministers' exercising the ultimate in authority, both in negotiating and in making agreements.

Some historians, judging from their appraisal of the Congress of Vienna, might think Eisenhower chose an unfortunate example of what foreign ministers can do when they have the ultimate in authority.

4. He has cited as an example of what he doesn't like about summit conferences the 1807 meeting between Napoleon and Czar Alexander I of Russia on a raft in the River Niemen near Tilsit.

That was a meeting between a bamboozler, Napoleon, and a half-baked mystic, Alexander, who at first admired each other, talked of dividing the world up between them, and then wound up fighting each other.

Khrushchev has been trying for more than a year and a half to get Eisenhower into a conference with him. At first the President was downright reluctant. Then he seemed to yield a bit.

Lately he has been saying he'd go to the summit if the foreign ministers, discussing the Berlin problem at Geneva, showed some progress. He has never said precisely what he considers progress.

There's a chance a summit meeting might make things worse instead of better. And there has been no tangible result from the first summit meeting Eisenhower had in 1955 with Khrushchev and the then Soviet Premier, Nikolai Bulganin.

These may be factors in his hesitancy about trying it again. But the memory of the meeting between Napoleon and Alexander seems to be high in his wariness about a second summit get-together. He has referred to it repeatedly.

Napoleon had so scrambled Europe — changing governments, unseating old kings, making new ones — that after his defeat and exile the crowned heads of Europe called the Congress of Vienna to undo and redo what he had done.

The congress made Europe safe for kings for years. Frontiers were rearranged without any concern for the ordinary people involved. They didn't have any say anyway. Only the kings and their foreign ministers did.

Looking back on the work of the congress, where foreign ministers had ultimate authority, British historian George Macaulay Trevelyan said that, while the congress had given Europe peace for 40 years, it made war inevitable.

H. G. Wells went further. He called the results of the congress a "crazy tangle, an outrage on the common sense of mankind."

One thing is certain: no American Congress would ever let an American secretary of state have the kind of blank check the ministers at Vienna used. But they were not answerable to a Congress. They worked for kings.

U.S., Red Fairs Compared

By Walter Ridder

MOSCOW

Despite heavy pre-opening criticism in the Soviet press and high Soviet circles, the exhibit at Sokolniki Park in the heart of Moscow marks the first full-scale exhibit of the American way of life to the Russian people. American authorities estimate three to five million Russians will view the exhibit before it closes.

The show, which features American homes, furniture and consumer goods as well as the ideas which impel American scientific research, education, health, social services and other projects, is basically designed to depict how the average American family lives, works and plays.

The main exhibit hall, a 50,000-square foot glass structure, is crammed full of American consumer goods ranging from childrens' boxing gloves through adult and child books to color television and the most modern of kitchen equipment. A model house, attacked by the Soviets as being "untypical," is displayed for visitors to see how the average American family lives.

FOR THOSE who have seen both the Soviet exhibit in New York and the American exhibit in Moscow, comparison between the two is inevitable. The emphasis in the two exhibits is decidedly different. The Soviet exhibit stresses what the state can do for its people. The American exhibit stresses what the people can do for themselves.

Whereas the New York show is replete with working models of hydro-electric dams, public housing projects, transportation and electrical systems, the American show lays greatest stress on what the individual can buy and use and enjoy.

While peripheral exhibits at the American show portray the achievements of American space research, of American architecture, of American painting and music and technology, the main stress is on the consumer goods which are or could be in every American home.

It is this facet of the exhibit, which American officials believe will attract most interest of goods —hungry Russian people, which has come under heaviest Soviet criticism.

The main exhibit is crammed with American consumer goods, many of which are new to American viewers. The goods exhibited take in all aspects of American life. At one end of the exhibit hall is a model book store and reading room; at the other end, displays of sporting equipment from horseshoe pitching to skin diving. Automobiles, swimming pools, model kitchens, clothes, hardware—name it and it is on display.

THE PROFUSION of goods has brought heavy criticism from the Soviet press and from the Soviet high command. They have called the show a "bargain basement" and they have sneered at it as being materialistic and unrepresentative. Despite the criticism, the exhibit is expected to be packed with curious Russians. Soviet citizens are scrambling to get tickets. Russians not in official positions who have seen the show predict freely that most average Russians will find it "eyepopping."

The exhibit's heavy reliance on consumer goods is, of course, directed to the aspirations and hopes of a people who still must stand in queues for a good pair of shoes or medium quality fabric.

The two exhibits may well illustrate the differences in national attitudes at this particular moment in history. The Soviet exhibit depicts a nation driving, ambitious, straining to catch up and forge ahead of the rest of the world. The United States show is more relaxed, more concerned with living today, more self-assured in that it brings its message in pastel shades rather than the flamboyant hues of the Soviet exhibition.

Mustangs Fade

The last of the West's wild horses — the mustangs immortalized in legend and history — are fighting a losing battle for survival.

The few remaining herds, numbering perhaps 15,000 animals, are being rounded up and sold as pet food. Pursued by trucks and aircraft, the horses are driven to exhaustion.

Canneries buy the inexpensive horsemeat to help satisfy the appetites of America's 26 million dogs.

Wild horses roamed America at least 15,000 years ago. The first hunters who pushed southward from the Bering Strait stalked them for food. Eventually, these primitive little horses became extinct, but nobody knows why.

Spanish conquistadors re-introduced the horse to America. In the late 17th century, Indian raids forced the Spanish to abandon many new settlements and missions in New Mexico. Large numbers of horses were left behind and they reverted to the wild.

Immense herds grazed the grasslands of the Southwest. New recruits constantly swelled the mustang ranks.

Steel Imports Dig Deeper

When foreign competition is mentioned in the East Liverpool district the pottery industry comes to mind immediately.

No pottery worker or manufacturer needs to be reminded of the damage that the imports of cheaper ware have caused.

A report in the Wall Street Journal now raises a question as to whether the steel industry may be heading down the same road.

The article includes these ominous facts:

"Broad interest in foreign steel is helping push steel imports to record levels. U. S. steel companies and many American steel users say the current steel strike is only speeding a trend that already was picking up momentum for a more basic reason; Foreign steel-makers on many steel items simply are offering lower prices than their U.S. competitors.

"Although figures are not yet available, imports in the first half of 1959 seem sure to have exceeded the 1.7 million tons imported in all of 1958.

"Imports reflect only a part of the loss of business by U.S. steelworkers. Exports of U.S. mills are slipping, as imports rise. And indirect steel imports in the form of machine tools, automobiles, typewriters, farm tractors, screen doors, steel tanks and a host of other steel products are rising too.

"Exports of steel mill products in the first five months of 1959, the latest period for which precise figures are available, totaled 850,000 tons, down 37 per cent from a year earlier. Imports in the same period were 1.5 million tons, up 224 per cent from the corresponding 1958 period, reports the American Iron and Steel Institute, New York-headquartered trade association for the steel industry.

"For six months, through May, imports have exceeded exports, each month this pattern runs counter to all experience.

"We've had five previous strikes and never before have steel imports exceeded exports in this manner," says an official of the United States Steel Corp. "Net imports have been increasing steadily since last December. That can't be something due just to the strike.

"Foreign steel imports are of special importance today because they have been injected into the current labor strife in steel. Industry contends high labor costs price domestic producers out of export markets and invite competitive imports. The Steelworkers Union argues imports are too insignificant beside domestic output to rate much attention. The industry agrees imports this year are likely to amount to less than 5 per cent of domestic production but contends the growth of this percentage is a matter for deep concern."

The report, in continuing, offers this observation by R. L. Gray, president of the Armco Steel Corp.: "At Armco we do not believe that it would be wise to keep foreign steel out of the U.S. by use of high tariffs. There is only one sound way to compete. That is by reducing our cost of production. The time has come for labor leaders and management to join in working to preserve the jobs of American steelworkers from destruction by foreign competition."

In view of the pottery story, it would seem time to do that very thing.

Is The Chase Worth The Damage?

Here is an incident reported over and over again by newspapers.

A police patrol squad begins to chase a fleeing driver. The driver is fleeing because he has done something wrong. Otherwise, he would stop.

Both cars pick up speed. Suddenly, a potential disaster is in the making. Panic and anger have been substituted for logic and reason. One bad move and a serious accident happens.

Speeding cars smash into obstacles. If shooting has been added to the risk of insanely reckless driving, bullets may thud into the bodies of bystanders. There is no foreseeable limit to the possibilities of death and injury.

It happened a few days ago in Cleveland. At one time, 10 police cruisers were chasing a car driven by a car thief. Eight civilian automobiles and one cruiser were damaged. The car thief was hit by bullets three times. Four innocent persons were hurt in collisions. A passenger bus was involved in one accident.

The story is familiar. It happens over and over again — the fleeing suspect with everything to gain and nothing to lose by making a wild dash for freedom and the determined pursuers risking their necks and public security in hot pursuit.

We doubt if the chase is worth the damage it causes in most cases. We doubt it particularly if one or more of the policeman pursuers must be listed among the casualties. It would be wonderful to run all miscreants to ground. But there is a price that is too high to pay to pick up the ordinary run of suspects. If they cannot be run to ground safely, they are not worth the risk of running them to ground hazardously. Public security is hurt more than it is helped.

Wild chases in automobiles should be reserved for movies made circa 1920, when the pursued and the pursuer had the roads pretty much to themselves.

Faulty Leadership

By Frank Tripp

There seems a growing defeatist attitude among the electorate. A "what's the use, they all soak us" attitude that spawns public apathy and mercenary leadership.

The old vigilance that kept leaders on their toes and democracy in action has given way to docile submission to clique domination of peoples' affairs—by politicians, unions, do-gooders, wasters and "isms." Have Americans surrendered?

History reveals only two ways that peoples have thrown off the shackles of tax oppression. It has been by the ballot or by revolution. Either way it has been the people who had to do it—and it took guts.

Always it has been greed of leaders for power and the spoils of victory that brought the crisis; and always the people have been caught in the trap by deception and promises.

THE TAX enslavement of a people, the disintegration of an economy or the fall of a government invariably has been the result of extravagance, a fools' paradise, in which America now is wallowing.

Our fools' paradise promises unearned leisure and plenty, which can last only as long as the peoples savings last or their production exceeds their expenditures. Credit only mortgages the future.

This is just as true of government, federal, state and local, as it is of a family's empty purse, its job insecurity—and its ultimate bankruptcy.

The hoax for which the thoughtless have fallen is that there is a shiftless way to preserve America's way of life and its freedom: that they can consume and live up more than they produce, both as a family and a nation.

To perpetuate themselves in office and power, leaders in government and of unions have set up a phony economy that is nearing a breaking point.

The government by waste, extravagance and give-aways that drain the people; the unions by wage demands to meet the drain, and restricted production to make things worse and living costs higher. A vicious spiral, heading for disaster.

Nowhere does anybody stop the extravagance that has the economy hanging on the ropes; a world of gimmie nations mocking us, Russia cold-warring us into bankruptcy—and submission to their terms.

THE BALLOT method of escape has worked only when candidates and parties have stood for something other than greed for office. Four years from 1960 could be too late.

Sooner than that the joy ride must end, the fiddler must be paid and America go back to work; pay its debts and salvage what is left of the heritage which the toil and the blood of its founders left us.

Where is the candidate and the platform that puts the country above party and patronage? Must a great nation die on a cross of greed, politics and inflation?

All that we hear about is political expediency that will lead to party victory in 1960. Isn't there a patriot left in America who would rather be right than be president?

If not, let's capitulate and get it over with; for we must find a savior who will stop the spending—or else.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Inflation can cost the average American his shirt. But he's so stupid he thinks he is covered by federal shirt and pants insurance. He is an odd bird who thinks he is ahead if he gets twice what his old man got and spends three times as much to make both ends meet.

He believes the mint is a self filling Washington bureau operated by dependable vaudeville magicians.

You can break a dozen eggs, separate yolks from whites and prove that this doesn't produce a dozen omelettes but his answer will be, "Who cares? I ordered wheat cakes and sausage."

He can yawn at a headline, "U.S. Faces Economic Crisis" and put on a hi-fi recording during a broadcast that federal debt is at a new high. He can phone for a dance lesson during a radio announcement that Uncle Sam has just given 100 trillion dollars to the Bullgovanians to help straighten out THEIR MONEY PROBLEM!!!

TELL HIM that $10 minus $6 equals $4 and he replies, "Not if I have a credit card." Point out that if he gets $75 a week and the groceries come to $80, his reaction will be, "It doesn't bother me so long as I do my worrying by auto and have 14 more payments to go."

He has heard about inflation in other nations during which a man or woman had to take a wheelbarrow load of money to the market for a cinnamon bun but he says, "That was due to boll weevils, climate and a shortage of aspirin pills. The guy mistakes a dead end street sign for E Pluribus Unum and thinks "mathematics" is a Chinese word meaning "Turn in your old car. The ashtray

He is looking for trouble. And he is getting his order in early.

According to one recent survey, 33.5 million American families now spend about 2.3 billion man-hours per week watching television. This is more than the amount of time devoted to earning a living in the same household—1.9 billion man-hours.

One of the oldest of garden vegetables is the cucumber, it being mentioned in the Old Testament and having been known at least 3,000 years ago. Many varieties of this edible are cultivated, with the fruit from two inches to two feet in length.

Anxious Waiting

Reds Train New Kenya Terrorists

By Victor Riesel

NAIROBI, Africa

Despite the noisy bars, the hot jazz of the Equator Club and the sneering at those mobile dude ranches as silken safaris for the suckers, this is a frightened city. When you're alone with those who know, they confide that they believe the Mau Mau will strike again under a different terroristic tag — but a secret society by any other name can be just as deadly.

Victor Riesel

They tell you the Mau Mau itself has been smashed. But special government units still search the Aberdare Mountains for 100 of the organization's toughest killers. Only three weeks ago the colony's trackers brought in two of the old Mau Mau leaders. This pair joined some 750 others still in prison camps.

About 95 of them are in special detention for they are particularly hardened. Some day the governor will have to release them and some day they will be the cadres for a new secret society, already believed launched.

There always have been secret societies among the 1½ million Kikuyus. Most of this vast tribe, however, are loyal and that's why the Mau Mau terrorists had to kill 10,000 fellow Africans to keep the rest in line.

THERE ARE MANY responsible settlers and government people who believe that the mass slaughter was ordered by a secret Communist cell. These same sources believe that a similar cell will reorganize the hard core into tough new units and order new terror the moment the Soviets think strategic for their moves down East Africa.

No one outside of the intelligence services can prove this. But I believe it. Tell you why. Here is a part of the Mau Mau story which has not yet been disclosed:

Back in 1929 there was something called the Kenya African Union. Most of its activities were secret. It had units stretching across Kenya. It strong-armed many a peaceful Kikuyu to raise money for its paid officials. Yet after a while the African Union obviously had more money than it could squeeze from the agricultural Kikuyus.

Sometime at the beginning of the big war, one of the union's officials, a 40-year-old Kikuyu called Jomo Kenyatta (an alias), took off for Moscow. There he "studied."

At war's end, when many Africans were shipped back to this continent by the Russians, Jomo Kenyatta returned too. He shared a ship cabin with a comrade named Semakulu Mulumba, who went into nearby Uganda. Riots followed Mulumba's arrival in Uganda, carefully planned riots which ended when the British exiled him.

MEANWHILE, Kenyatta returned to the Kenya African unit. There he joined with Chege Kibichia, the big chief of the Kenya African Union. Shortly after that there suddenly was organized a band of strong-arm men inside the Kenya African Union called the "Forties." From this muscle outfit came the Mau Mau.

In 1947 Kenyatta also began organizing a Kenyawide labor organization. He operated on Communist tactical lines. Soon this labor base was turned into a tough cell-like network by Jomo Kenyatta, now the Mau Mau leader.

It took him some three years to be ready to hit. He did. The killings started when responsible Kikuyu chiefs refused to permit their tribes to be sewn into the Mau Mau structure.

At the height of the terror, the Mau Maus had 16,000 killers, arsonists, knife artists and just plain troops in the forests. This was told to me by Michael Blundell, one of Kenya's great leaders who fought the Mau Mau.

There were three Mau Mau oaths. These have been described in fine fiction and news stories. But a special report to a British parliamentary investigation commission has never made the press. It describes the oaths as a process which can only be talked of as brainwashing—the typical Communist technique.

"A very clever man, a man knowing the psychology of his people, their superstitions, their fear of witchcraft, must have made the plan," the report said.

After having taken three or more oaths, the personality of the oathtaker changed. It is not insanity . . . but the person is not sane in the normal sense of the word . . ."

Khrushchev has been trying for more than a year and a half to get Eisenhower into a conference with him. At first the President was downright reluctant. Then he seemed to yield a bit.

Lately he has been saying he'd go to the summit if the foreign ministers, discussing the Berlin problem at Geneva, showed some progress. He has never said precisely what he considers progress.

There's a chance a summit meeting might make things worse instead of better. And there has been no tangible result from the first summit meeting Eisenhower had in 1955 with Khrushchev and the then Soviet Premier, Nikolai Bulganin.

These may be factors in his hesitancy about trying it again. But the memory of the meeting between Napoleon and Alexander seems to be high in his wariness about a second summit get-together. He has referred to it repeatedly.

Napoleon had so scrambled Europe — changing governments, unseating old kings, making new ones — that after his defeat and exile the crowned heads of Europe called the Congress of Vienna to undo and redo what he had done.

The congress made Europe safe for kings for years. Frontiers were rearranged without any concern for the ordinary people involved. They didn't have any say anyway. Only the kings and their foreign ministers did.

Looking back on the work of the congress, where foreign ministers had ultimate authority, British historian George Macaulay Trevelyan said that, while the congress had given Europe peace for 40 years, it made war inevitable.

H. G. Wells went further. He called the results of the congress a "crazy tangle, an outrage on the common sense of mankind."

One thing is certain: no American Congress would ever let an American secretary of state have the kind of blank check the ministers at Vienna used. But they were not answerable to a Congress. They worked for kings.

MOSCOW

Despite heavy pre-opening criticism in the Soviet press and high Soviet circles, the exhibit at Sokolniki Park in the heart of Moscow marks the first full-scale exhibit of the American way of life to the Russian people. American authorities estimate three to five million Russians will view the exhibit before it closes.

The show, which features American homes, furniture and consumer goods as well as the ideas which impel American scientific research, education, health, social services and other projects, is basically designed to depict how the average American family lives, works and plays.

The main exhibit hall, a 50,000-square foot glass structure, is crammed full of American consumer goods ranging from childrens' boxing gloves through adult and child books to color television and the most modern of kitchen equipment. A model house, attacked by the Soviets as being "untypical," is displayed for visitors to see how the average American family lives.

FOR THOSE who have seen both the Soviet exhibit in New York and the American exhibit in Moscow, comparison between the two is inevitable. The emphasis in the two exhibits is decidedly different. The Soviet exhibit stresses what the state can do for its people. The American exhibit stresses what the people can do for themselves.

Whereas the New York show is replete with working models of hydro-electric dams, public housing projects, transportation and electrical systems, the American show lays greatest stress on what the individual can buy and use and enjoy.

While peripheral exhibits at the American show portray the achievements of American space research, of American architecture, of American painting and music and technology, the main stress is on the consumer goods which are or could be in every American home.

It is this facet of the exhibit, which American officials believe will attract most interest of goods—hungry Russian people, which has come under heaviest Soviet criticism.

The main exhibit is crammed with American consumer goods, many of which are new to American viewers. The goods exhibited take in all aspects of American life. At one end of the exhibit hall is a model book store and reading room; at the other end, displays of sporting equipment from horseshoe pitching to skin diving. Automobiles, swimming pools, model kitchens, clothes, hardware—name it and it is on display.

THE PROFUSION of goods has brought heavy criticism from the Soviet press and from the Soviet high command. They have called the show a "bargain basement" and they have sneered at it as being materialistic and unrepresentative. Despite the criticism, the exhibit is expected to be packed with curious Russians. Soviet citizens are scrambling to get tickets. Russians not in official positions who have seen the show predict freely that most average Russians will find it "eyepopping."

The exhibit's heavy reliance on consumer goods is, of course, directed to the aspirations and hopes of a people who still must stand in queues for a good pair of shoes or medium quality fabric.

The two exhibits may well illustrate the differences in national attitudes at this particular moment in history. The Soviet exhibit depicts a nation driving, ambitious, straining to catch up and forge ahead of the rest of the world. The United States show is more relaxed, more concerned with living today, more self-assured in that it brings its message in pastel shades rather than the flamboyant hues of the Soviet exhibition.

Mustangs Fade

The last of the West's wild horses — the mustangs immortalized in legend and history — are fighting a losing battle for survival.

The few remaining herds, numbering perhaps 15,000 animals, are being rounded up and sold as pet food. Pursued by trucks and aircraft, the horses are driven to exhaustion.

Canneries buy the inexpensive horsemeat to help satisfy the appetites of America's 26 million dogs.

Wild horses roamed America at least 15,000 years ago. The first hunters who pushed southward from the Bering Strait stalked them for food. Eventually, these primitive little horses became extinct, but nobody knows why.

Spanish conquistadors re-introduced the horse to America. In the late 17th century, Indian raids forced the Spanish to abandon many new settlements and missions in New Mexico. Large numbers of horses were left behind and they reverted to the wild.

Immense herds grazed the grasslands of the Southwest. New recruits constantly swelled the mustang ranks.

Fund-Raising Made Easier

Local Rules Given Boost By Legislature's Actions

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legislators didn't increase local government appropriations for the next two years.

But they made it easier for municipalities, counties, townships and school districts to raise funds on their own from tax levies and bond issues.

And they increased inheritance taxes about six million dollars for two years, with the state and locals splitting equally.

Starting in mid-September, municipalities can increase their net indebtedness, without a popular vote, from 1 to 1½ per cent of real property valuations. Charter cities can boost their net from 2 to 2½ per cent. But the total of all such debt cannot exceed 7 per cent of valuations. The present limit is 5 per cent.

Another enactment cuts from 55 to 50 per cent the vote required in primary and general elections for approval of bond issues and tax levies.

The margin for approval at special elections remains at 60 per cent.

Excluded in figuring debt limits were water and sewer bonds. Those issues can be made under a new law to a limit of 2 per cent of valuations.

Another new law, effective next year, permits that portion of a school district's first 10 mills of operating income which must be voted to be levied for an indefinite period. (Present law limits the life of all operating levies to five years). In addition, another part of the same new law permits levies beyond the first 10 mills of school operating income to be effective for as long as 10 years.

Local governments will continue to receive two million dollars annually from sales tax collections. They also will get about 25 millions from the tax on financial institutions and security dealers on the basis of past revenue. And they will get additional help for child welfare and for old age pensioners in county hospitals.

Another six million dollars annually will come from fee increases for courthouse services. Already in effect, those increases range from 10 to 35 cents for property transfers to a $5 daily charge by sheriffs for inventories at sheriff sales. The old inventory fee was $2.50. A host of other fee boosts were provided.

County officials raised a storm of protest two years ago when former Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill vetoed a similar county fee bill on grounds that it violated his then-popular no-new-tax program.

Counties also will benefit from the 1 per cent fee allowed clerks of courts for sales tax collections in motor vehicle transactions.

The Democratic-controlled Legislature voted pay raises for elected county officials ranging from 10 to 28 per cent according to population. Affected officials were: Auditors, treasurers, sheriffs, clerks of courts, recorders, commissioners, prosecutors, engineers and coroners.

Others voted pay boosts included judges, from municipal to supreme courts, and health and election board members. School board employes were allowed pay while serving on juries. The pay of appellate court shorthand reporters also was increased. And common pleas judges in counties of more than 300,000 were allowed administrative assistants.

County commissioners were authorized to build incinerators and set fees for their use.

Public employes retirement benefits were increased. They will be based on the best five years' salary rather than the best five in the last 10 years of service.

County courts were allowed to hire clerks or use the services of common pleas court clerks for that purpose.

Commissioners of a county or group of counties received permission to establish juvenile rehabilitation camps for first offenders in misdemeanor cases. Under another new law, juvenile judges can require commissioners to build juvenile detention homes.

The Dec. 31, 1960, deadline for commissioners to build and lease county hospitals was eliminated and those officials were authorized to accept transfer of hospital facilities from municipalities. The sum commissioners can spend for building repairs from general funds without a popular vote was increased from $25,000 to $100,000.

Fees to be paid appraisers in animal claims were increased from 5 cents to $3 per case, the payments to come from dog and kennel funds.

Minimum pensions for city police and firemen were boosted from $1,200 to $1,500 and allowances for widows increased.

Metropolitan housing authorities will be able to set aside units for persons over 65, under another new statute.

In emergencies, sheriffs were authorized to obtain the help of deputies from neighboring counties. And sheriffs were permitted to reduce sentences of prisoners for work done, subject to court approval.

Provision also was made for commissioners to vacate county roads upon request of the state highway director.

An ancient statute, known as the "Horse Thief Act," permitting private groups to form posses for apprehension of criminals, was repealed.

Terms of village councilmen were increased to four years, several new municipal courts created, the jurisdiction of others extended and liquor permit holders were allowed to appeal State Liquor Board decisions in their home counties. Those appeals were permitted only in Franklin County.

Another enactment returned to county auditors authority to make real property tax appraisals under standards set by the State Board of Tax Appeals.

Weirton Explosion Scene

Baby Thrown Over Tree But Unhurt In House Blast

WEIRTON — A baby boy was thrown over a tree in his crib Sunday in an explosion in a double, two-story building a mile north.

The baby and six other persons miraculously escaped serious injury in the blast and the fire that followed.

Two open gas jets apparently caused the explosion.

The 8-month-old boy was a member of one family thrown from their apartment by the blast. Richard Hixenbaugh, 4, brother of the baby, James, suffered a broken leg when propelled beyond the building. The door of the garage below the apartment and some of the roof had landed on him.

Richard Hixenbaugh, 25-year-old father of the family, was in the bathroom when "suddenly the house started to fall apart." He found himself lying on his car in the garage near his wife, Barbara.

Scott Bennett, owner of the dwelling and father of one of the residents, was going toward the building when the explosion took place. He went into the ruins after the blast and fire leveled the structure and said he found two open gas jets on a hot plate in the garage.

Mrs. James Nesselrode, Bennett's daughter, was turning off the engine of her car in the garage when she saw the flash of the explosion. She fainted.

Her husband and son, Mark, 2, had gotten out of the car and were headed for the house. Young Mark was jolted from his father's arms and a side door landed on the senior Nesselrode.

Hixenbaugh helped his wife out of the garage and pulled his older son from under the fallen door. Mrs. Nesselrode came to and got clear of the fire.

Mrs. Nellie Skillen

Mrs. Nellie Skillen died Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Grace Gordon, 36-B Midland Heights, after an illness of 2 years. She was 85.

She was born July 14, 1874, in West Virginia and was a member of the Industry Evangelical United Brethren Church.

She also leaves a son, Richard W. Lyons of East Liverpool, and 11 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at the Schwerha Funeral Home at Midland Wednesday at 2 p. m. by the Rev. David H. Gill of the Industry church and Michael Mosura, pastor of the Midland Heights Community Church. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery in Industry Township.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight.

Rainfall, Temperatures Both Above Normal During July

July's temperatures and rainfall were slightly above normal and marked the sixth month this year the rainfall exceeded the average Edwin Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather observer, reported today.

In his monthly weather summary, Copeland said the temperatures last month averaged 70.8 degrees, compared to the normal 70.5 degrees for July in his 66-year records.

Rainfall amounted to 4.69 inches, a third of an inch above the normal 4.3 inches for July, and boosting the rainfall for 1959 to 28.05 inches compared to the normal 21.14 inches for a seven-month period.

Last month's rainfall was well below the 12.39 inches of July 1958, however, Copeland pointed out.

July's temperatures ranged from a high of 89 degrees on July 17 to a low of 43 degrees July 7. Sunshine averaged 64 per cent—compared to the normal 65 per cent—with 5 cloudy, 12 partly cloudy and 14 clear days.

Rain and high humidity delayed combining for the past two weeks after one good week of work, Copeland said. A record corn crop is in the making, and all gardens and truck patches are showing prospects of an abundant harvest of high quality.

Pastures are green and thick as if it were spring, he added.

Visits

it in the hope it would produce positive rather than negative values.

He also said congressional leaders with whom he had discussed the matter had reacted favorably.

Eisenhower gave no indication as to how soon he will return Khrushchev's visit, but noted that fall does not end until Dec. 22.

He described his visit to the Soviet Union as a personal one, saying he cannot and does not intend to speak for the Western powers, but only for the United States.

The announcement eases fears of a dangerous new flareup of the Berlin crisis after the imminent collapse of the Geneva foreign ministers conference. Dispatches from Geneva said diplomats expect this parley to end in failure Wednesday.

But with the leaders of the United States and Russia slated to meet, it is considered unlikely that the Kremlin would take any move toward its aim of ousting the Western powers from West Berlin.

Thus the world is apparently spared, for some weeks at least, the prospect of any great collision over Berlin.

The Khrushchev visit will be a historic first — no other top leader of Russian communism has ever visited the United States.

It will pose a massive security problem for federal officers and for state and local authorities wherever Khrushchev may go.

While no top man in the Russian hierarchy has ever visited this country, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt did visit Russia. In February 1945 Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin met at Yalta in the Crimea in a conference which has been controversial to this day.

Eisenhower is known to have long held the view that under the right conditions it would be a good idea for Khrushchev — and for the top echelon of the Russian government in general — to visit this country. The idea behind that was to let the Russians see what this country has, how it lives and the stakes it has to defend if need be.

For a long time there has been speculation in some quarters that there are misconceptions among the top Russians about how fully the American people back their government leaders, and the degree of public devotion to the democratic way.

Eisenhower has believed that public opinion would have to be carefully prepared, however, for any Khrushchev visit, to avoid demonstrations or incidents.

Eisenhower also felt that the timing of any Khrushchev visit would be important, and that careful consideration would have to be given the feelings of America's allies and of "captive countries."

One part of that ground apparently is covered by the plan for Eisenhower to visit Europe and talk with Allied leaders.

The prospective unproductive end of the Geneva conference could fit closely into Eisenhower's thoughts about proper timing.

Liquor Stores To Halt Use Of Order Forms

If you want to drink privately, you'll have a better chance after Oct. 23.

A new law effective on that date eliminates the signing of your name and address on order slips at state liquor stores, Harry Excell, manager of the East Liverpool store, and Harold Seevers, manager of the Wellsville outlet, said.

State Liquor Director Richard Crouch estimates eliminathion of the slips will save the department about $55,000.

Excell and Seevers will attend a meeting of store managers Aug. 11 in Columbus to discuss new laws and new store procedures.

Chester Man's Stolen Auto Found Stripped

A 1953 convertible stolen from a Chester man was found Sunday south of Newell, stripped of wheels, tires and other equipment, touching off an investigation today by Hanoock County sheriff's deputies.

John McIntosh told deputies his car was stolen from 5th St., between 8:30 p. m. Saturday and 1 a. m. Sunday. It was discovered Sunday afternoon by Deputy Arnie Durham near Arroyo. Also missing were hubcaps, radio, heater and the battery.

McIntosh later installed four wheels on the auto and drove it back home, deputies said.

Part-Time Jobs Legal For Youths In School Term

Teen-agers gainfully employed today should begin thinking about returning to school this fall to finish high school, William S. Singley, regional director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division, is urging.

He emphasized that the Federal child-labor law does not prevent students from earning money in part-time jobs during the school year.

"Teen-agers can earn while they learn, if they observe the guidelines set by Federal law," he stressed.

Most jobs under the Fair Labor Standards Act — the Federal child-labor law — may be done by 16-year-old students. Students who are 14 and 15 years old may be employed in some jobs, including sales, office and custodial work, outside school hours.

"There are hours restrictions on the employment of 14- and 15-year-olds," Singley said. "They may work no more than 3 hours a day on school days and 18 hours a week in school weeks." On Saturdays and other days when there is no school, they may work up to eight hours a day. All their work must be done between the hours of 7 in the morning and 7 in the evening.

Singley cautioned that some occupations, such as truck driver or helper, have been declared hazardous and require an 18-year age minimum under the Act.

The act applies to employees engaged in interstate commerce or the production of goods for interstate commerce, unless specifically exempt. "A very important exemption from the child-labor provisions is one for newspaper delivery boys," Singley said.

Teen-agers, their parents, and employers are urged to inquire for further information about the Federal child-labor law at the Division's local office in Cleveland, 216 Engineers' Building, CHerry 1-7900, Ext. 549.

He was taken into custody at 1:20 a. m. Saturday on Route 7 south of Wellsville after being chased by police who were notified he was beating a woman in his car. Police said Catherine Roth dropped charges of assault and battery.

Rainfall, Temperatures Both Above Normal During July

July's temperatures and rainfall were slightly above normal and marked the sixth month this year the rainfall exceeded the average Edwin Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather observer, reported today.

In his monthly weather summary, Copeland said the temperatures last month averaged 70.8 degrees, compared to the normal 70.5 degrees for July in his 66-year records.

Rainfall amounted to 4.69 inches, a third of an inch above the normal 4.3 inches for July, and boosting the rainfall for 1959 to 28.05 inches compared to the normal 21.14 inches for a seven-month period.

Last month's rainfall was well below the 12.39 inches of July 1958, however, Copeland pointed out.

July's temperatures ranged from a high of 89 degrees on July 17 to a low of 43 degrees July 7. Sunshine averaged 64 per cent—compared to the normal 65 per cent—with 5 cloudy, 12 partly cloudy and 14 clear days.

Rain and high humidity delayed combining for the past two weeks after one good week of work, Copeland said. A record corn crop is in the making, and all gardens and truck patches are showing prospects of an abundant harvest of high quality.

Pastures are green and thick as if it were spring, he added.

it in the hope it would produce positive rather than negative values.

He also said congressional leaders with whom he had discussed the matter had reacted favorably.

Eisenhower gave no indication as to how soon he will return Khrushchev's visit, but noted that fall does not end until Dec. 22.

He described his visit to the Soviet Union as a personal one, saying he cannot and does not intend to speak for the Western powers, but only for the United States.

The announcement eases fears of a dangerous new flareup of the Berlin crisis after the imminent collapse of the Geneva foreign ministers conference. Dispatches from Geneva said diplomats expect this parley to end in failure Wednesday.

But with the leaders of the United States and Russia slated to meet, it is considered unlikely that the Kremlin would take any move toward its aim of ousting the Western powers from West Berlin.

Thus the world is apparently spared, for some weeks at least, the prospect of any great collision over Berlin.

The Khrushchev visit will be a historic first — no other top leader of Russian communism has ever visited the United States.

It will pose a massive security problem for federal officers and for state and local authorities wherever Khrushchev may go.

While no top man in the Russian hierarchy has ever visited this country, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt did visit Russia. In February 1945 Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin met at Yalta in the Crimea in a conference which has been controversial to this day.

Eisenhower is known to have long held the view that under the right conditions it would be a good idea for Khrushchev — and for the top echelon of the Russian government in general — to visit this country. The idea behind that was to let the Russians see what this country has, how it lives and the stakes it has to defend if need be.

For a long time there has been speculation in some quarters that there are misconceptions among the top Russians about how fully the American people back their government leaders, and the degree of public devotion to the democratic way.

Eisenhower has believed that public opinion would have to be carefully prepared, however, for any Khrushchev visit, to avoid demonstrations or incidents.

Eisenhower also felt that the timing of any Khrushchev visit would be important, and that careful consideration would have to be given the feelings of America's allies and of "captive countries."

One part of that ground apparently is covered by the plan for Eisenhower to visit Europe and talk with Allied leaders.

The prospective unproductive end of the Geneva conference could fit closely into Eisenhower's thoughts about proper timing.

Liquor Stores To Halt Use Of Order Forms

If you want to drink privately, you'll have a better chance after Oct. 23.

A new law effective on that date eliminates the signing of your name and address on order slips at state liquor stores, Harry Excell, manager of the East Liverpool store, and Harold Seevers, manager of the Wellsville outlet, said.

State Liquor Director Richard Crouch estimates eliminathion of the slips will save the department about $55,000.

Excell and Seevers will attend a meeting of store managers Aug. 11 in Columbus to discuss new laws and new store procedures.

Chester Man's Stolen Auto Found Stripped

A 1953 convertible stolen from a Chester man was found Sunday south of Newell, stripped of wheels, tires and other equipment, touching off an investigation today by Hanoock County sheriff's deputies.

John McIntosh told deputies his car was stolen from 5th St., between 8:30 p. m. Saturday and 1 a. m. Sunday. It was discovered Sunday afternoon by Deputy Arnie Durham near Arroyo. Also missing were hubcaps, radio, heater and the battery.

McIntosh later installed four wheels on the auto and drove it back home, deputies said.

Part-Time Jobs Legal For Youths In School Term

Teen-agers gainfully employed today should begin thinking about returning to school this fall to finish high school, William S. Singley, regional director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division, is urging.

He emphasized that the Federal child-labor law does not prevent students from earning money in part-time jobs during the school year.

"Teen-agers can earn while they learn, if they observe the guidelines set by Federal law," he stressed.

Most jobs under the Fair Labor Standards Act — the Federal child-labor law — may be done by 16-year-old students. Students who are 14 and 15 years old may be employed in some jobs, including sales, office and custodial work, outside school hours.

"There are hours restrictions on the employment of 14- and 15-year-olds," Singley said. "They may work no more than 3 hours a day on school days and 18 hours a week in school weeks." On Saturdays and other days when there is no school, they may work up to eight hours a day. All their work must be done between the hours of 7 in the morning and 7 in the evening.

Singley cautioned that some occupations, such as truck driver or helper, have been declared hazardous and require an 18-year age minimum under the Act.

The act applies to employees engaged in interstate commerce or the production of goods for interstate commerce, unless specifically exempt. "A very important exemption from the child-labor provisions is one for newspaper delivery boys," Singley said.

Teen-agers, their parents, and employers are urged to inquire for further information about the Federal child-labor law at the Division's local office in Cleveland, 216 Engineers' Building, CHerry 1-7900, Ext. 349.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Ingenuity Helps Dieters Stay On Course

Where do you go from here, dieters? If your thinking is on the right course, the surge of energy that comes with a change of attitude is exhilarating and the new-found confidence makes you eager to continue.

Ida Jean Kain

Keep your mind on your goal 15 to 20 pounds off and a size smaller by Labor Day. One dieter holds out this promise: "Tell your reducers that the first 20 pounds are the hardest. Once they are off, the improvement can really be seen and that alone is enough to keep you happily on the course. From the 20 pound point, encouraging comments start coming from friends and family, and that is sheer bliss."

—:—

DIETERS, IF you are convinced that at long last you have found the foolproof way to control your weight, you will not be tempted to slip back into fattening food habits. You know now that the way you think can make all the difference, and that will power is really attitude in action.

Even the keen edge of hunger can serve as a sort of satisfaction—you prefer that quickened feeling to the full, heavy feeling that comes from overeating.

A reader suggests a novel plan to get your mind off food .. "Schedule some activity for immediately after the meal and you can break the habit of lingering at the table. The technique is to make a mental appointment of yourself.

"It's surprising how effectively this can get you up from the table and put a period to the meal. Have in mind to walk a block to post a letter, to call a friend, or to walk up the street to see if the grass is greener in the neighbor's yard. Use your igenuity. This puts an end to the aimless reaching for a bit more cheese or a little something more."

Let a favorite dress you cannot now squeeze into be a near goal. Hang that dress on the door of your closet and in your mind's eye see yourself zipping into it with ease. Sustain that picture, and a few weeks hence you will be wearing the dress proudly.

SEARCH FOR some helpful philosophy. This quote from Thoreau is a favorite of mine .. "If any man will keep advancing confidently in the direction of his dreams, he will one day achieve success unexpected in common hours."

Dieters, advance confidently in the direction of your dreams.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Mr. and Mrs. Reducing Plan." Address to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Speakers Listed At Camp Service

Dr. H. W. Couchenour of University Park, Iowa, will be speaker tonight at 7:30 at the Hollow Rock camp meeting and also Tuesday afternoon. Miss Janie Bradford of Washington, Pa., will address the young people tonight at 6.

What was termed a comfortable crowd attended the musical festival Sunday night and heard the Rev. Charles Williams of Lancaster, Ohio, speak on "He That Pursueth Evil Pursueth It To His Own Death," taken from Prov. 11:19.

The musical program opened with a marimba solo by a young student from Asbury College and the singing of "How Great Thou Art" by the Rev. Bill Cox, who was reared in Klondyke and was a member of the Boyce Methodist Church. He attended school in Chicago and went to Africa in missionary work in the Belgian Congo.

Dr. T. M. Anderson of Wilmore, Ky., spoke at the morning service on the theme, "Completeness In Christ." He is scheduled to preach every morning during the series.

"Rejoicing in the Things of the Spirit" was the topic of Dr. Couchenour during the afternoon service.

There were many seekers at the camp altars in the course of the day.

Second Explosion Hits Home Of Negro Couple

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—The home of the only Negro couple in the formerly all-white suburb of Collins Park has been hit by an explosion for the second time in less than five months.

The latest explosion Sunday buckled the walls and tore a large hole in the front of the $13,500 home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rayfield. They were not at home at the time.

An Ethiopian dollar (or thaler), which used to be par with the United States dollar now brings only .40 cents.

Adopted Children Aid Deadline Is Sept. 30

Sept. 30 is an important date to many people, according to William J. McCauley, manager of the Youngstown Regional Social Security office, which serves Columbiana County. This is the last day that many people can apply for Social Security benefits for adopted children without loss of some benefits.

The 1958 amendments to the Social Security Act liberalized the rules regarding benefits for adopted children. Under these amendments, children can receive benefits immediately upon adoption by a retired or disabled worker. Also, if the child was living with and being supported by a worker who died, the child may get Social Security benefits if he is adopted by the widow within 2 years after the worker's death. If the worker died before August 1958, the child can qualify if adopted by the widow before September 1960. Mother's benefits may be paid to the widow who adopted the child after the worker's death.

According to McCauley, many people who were believed eligible under this change have not inquired at the social security office. Inquiry should be made before Sept. 30 to prevent any loss of benefits.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Ingenuity Helps Dieters Stay On Course

Where do you go from here, dieters? If your thinking is on the right course, the surge of energy that comes with a change of attitude is exhilarating and the new-found confidence makes you eager to continue.

Ida Jean Kain

Keep your mind on your goal 15 to 20 pounds off and a size smaller by Labor Day. One dieter holds out this promise: "Tell your reducers that the first 20 pounds are the hardest. Once they are off, the improvement can really be seen and that alone is enough to keep you happily on the course. From the 20 pound point, encouraging comments start coming from friends and family, and that is sheer bliss."

—:—

DIETERS, IF you are convinced that at long last you have found the foolproof way to control your weight, you will not be tempted to slip back into fattening food habits. You know now that the way you think can make all the difference, and that will power is really attitude in action.

Even the keen edge of hunger can serve as a sort of satisfaction—you prefer that quickened feeling to the full, heavy feeling that comes from overeating.

A reader suggests a novel plan to get your mind off food . . "Schedule some activity for immediately after the meal and you can break the habit of lingering at the table. The technique is to make a mental appointment of yourself.

"It's surprising how effectively this can get you up from the table and put a period to the meal. Have in mind to walk a block to post a letter, to call a friend, or to walk up the street to see if the grass is greener in the neighbor's yard. Use your igenuity. This puts an end to the aimless reaching for a bit more cheese or a little something more."

Let a favorite dress you cannot now squeeze into be a near goal. Hang that dress on the door of your closet and in your mind's eye see yourself zipping into it with ease. Sustain that picture, and a few weeks hence you will be wearing the dress proudly.

SEARCH FOR some helpful philosophy. This quote from Thoreau is a favorite of mine . . "If any man will keep advancing confidently in the direction of his dreams, he will one day achieve success unexpected in common hours."

Dieters, advance confidently in the direction of your dreams.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Mr. and Mrs. Reducing Plan." Address to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Speakers Listed At Camp Service

Dr. H. W. Couchenour of University Park, Iowa, will be speaker tonight at 7:30 at the Hollow Rock camp meeting and also Tuesday afternoon. Miss Janie Bradford of Washington, Pa., will address the young people tonight at 6.

What was termed a comfortable crowd attended the musical festival Sunday night and heard the Rev. Charles Williams of Lancaster, Ohio, speak on "He That Pursueth Evil Pursueth It To His Own Death," taken from Prov. 11:19.

The musical program opened with a marimba solo by a young student from Asbury College and the singing of "How Great Thou Art" by the Rev. Bill Cox, who was reared in Klondyke and was a member of the Boyce Methodist Church. He attended school in Chicago and went to Africa in missionary work in the Belgian Congo.

Dr. T. M. Anderson of Wilmore, Ky., spoke at the morning service on the theme, "Completeness In Christ." He is scheduled to preach every morning during the series.

"Rejoicing in the Things of the Spirit" was the topic of Dr. Couchenour during the afternoon service.

There were many seekers at the camp altars in the course of the day.

Second Explosion Hits Home Of Negro Couple

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—The home of the only Negro couple in the formerly all-white suburb of Collins Park has been hit by an explosion for the second time in less than five months.

The latest explosion Sunday buckled the walls and tore a large hole in the front of the $13,500 home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rayfield. They were not at home at the time.

An Ethiopian dollar (or thaler), which used to be par with the United States dollar now brings only .40 cents.

Adopted Children Aid Deadline Is Sept. 30

Sept. 30 is an important date to many people, according to William J. McCauley, manager of the Youngstown Regional Social Security office, which serves Columbiana County. This is the last day that many people can apply for Social Security benefits for adopted children without loss of some benefits.

The 1958 amendments to the Social Security Act liberalized the rules regarding benefits for adopted children. Under these amendments, children can receive benefits immediately upon adoption by a retired or disabled worker. Also, if the child was living with and being supported by a worker who died, the child may get Social Security benefits if he is adopted by the widow within 2 years after the worker's death. If the worker died before August 1958, the child can qualify if adopted by the widow before September 1960. Mother's benefits may be paid to the widow who adopted the child after the worker's death.

According to McCauley, many people who were believed eligible under this change have not inquired at the social security office. Inquiry should be made before Sept. 30 to prevent any loss of benefits.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I used to think some of the letters in your column were so wild that you made them up. But after what happened to me I'd believe anything.

I'm 17 and my husband (if you can call him that) is 18. We both were graduated in June and begged our folks to let us get married before he was called to service. My parents aren't wealthy but they wanted to give me a lovely church wedding to remember always. It cost $3,000.

I wanted my best girl friend to be maid of honor but Mom insisted on a cousin I hadn't seen in six years. When Alicia (not her right name) met my fiance, Paul, at the rehearsal dinner, she kissed him on the lips, which I didn't think was necessary. From then on they had an awful lot to say to each other.

Following the ceremony the wedding party lined up to accept congratulations. Alicia, who should have stayed in the receiving line, kept lining up with the guests.

She and Paul exchanged several very passionate kisses. Finally my father came over and said to Paul, "What's going on here anyway?" That helped a little. But at the wedding dance Paul cut in on Alicia four different times.

Our honeymoon was seven days and nights of constant fighting. We've been home three days and hardly speak. Paul said if he'd known I was such a "lousy sport" he wouldn't have married me.

My mother has asked me what's wrong. She can see I'm miserable. I hate to tell her. What shall I do? —STILL WHITE BRIDE.

Dear Still White: If your signature means what I think it means, you have grounds for an annulment. Discuss this with your parents and clergyman at once.

Catty Friends

Dear Ann: After my child arrived I had a complete nervous breakdown. My doctor put me in a private hospital, but it cost more than my husband earned, so I had to transfer to a state institution. After four months I made a complete recovery.

I'm not ashamed of having been in a mental institution. I don't try to hide it. But some of my friends have a peculiar attitude toward mental illness and one woman referred to me as "formerly insane."

With so much being said and written on the subject you'd think people would realize it COULD happen to them. A word from you in the column would mean a lot. Please? — D.M.F.

Dear D. M. F.: Mental illness can and does hit the young and the old, the rich and the poor, the brilliant and the dullards. It's an illness in the same sense that cancer and asthma are illnesses. We are all candidates — and sometimes the line is mighty thin.

Often one who is severly disturbed is able to disguise his illness and the fact that he moves about in society is no proof he has all his buttons. Some citizens who are walking around are sicker than those in institutions.

Normal Curiosity

Dear Ann: My husband and I are having an argument over something which may seem trivial. Our daughters 6 and 8 act starved the minute they step into Grandma's house. Even if they've just finished a big meal they're so hungry they can't stand it.

My husband says this is bad manners. I say all kids are this way. Who's right. — LOIS.

Dear Lois: This is fairly normal behavior for youngsters 6 and 8. Explain it's okay to ask for food in Grandma's house but nowhere else.

Curiosity is a characteristic of the young. Most kids just want to see what there is to eat in someone else's house.

Reinartz Lauds Church's Role In Pittsburgh's Past

A delegation from the Luther League here and others from the Tri-State District heard Dr. F. Epling Reinartz praise the role of Pittsburgh churches, notably its Lutheran congregations, during the city's 200-year history Sunday night.

The delegation was from St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church which Dr. Reinartz pastored before he became secretary of the United Lutheran Church in America.

Speaking at the bicentennial Lutheran vespers at the new Point Park, the Lutheran churchman said "No one will underestimate the reconciling role of the churches of Pittsburgh, and notably the Lutheran churches of this city, in most of the 200 years reviewed in this year's celebration. The confluence of the rivers has symbolized for them the flowing together of man's utter lostness and God's inexhaustible river of grace."

Dr. Reinartz also paid tribute to Dr. William Alfred Passavant, "a great-hearted Lutheran preacher, philanthropist, editor and church executive," who founded the first Protestant hospital in North America in Pittsburgh in 1849.

The city of Pittsburgh, Dr. Reinartz observed, is an object lesson from history in the wisdom of merger, union and mutually supporting relationships because of the confluence of the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers and the polyglot peoples who settled in the city.

The vesper service are being conducted each Sunday by a different denomination as part of the city's bicentennial anniversary.

Ohio Township Water Deadline Extended

Deadline for applications for a proposed water distribution system in Ohio Township has been extended indefinitely, Daniel C. Baker of the Ohio Township Municipal Authority announced.

He said there are 161 signers so far, but more are needed. Baker said there still is a possibility of realizing the new system and said the authority would by no means drop the project.

He said a meeting will be called soon between the supervisors, the Fairview Grange and the authority to try and find a solution.

GOP Women Plan Coffee Event

Republican county chairwomen and presidents of women's GOP clubs in the five-county 18th Congressional District are to attend a "discussion coffee" meeting Thursday at 11 a. m. at Timberlane's Restaurant at Salem.

Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem, district committee woman, said representatives will be present from Columbiana, Jefferson, Carroll, Belmont and Harrison Counties.

A joint project of the women's division of the State GOP committee and the Ohio Federation of Republican women, the meetings are planned throughout Ohio to mobilize womenpower, train new precinct workers, enroll new members in women's Republican clubs, form new clubs where none now exist and provide an opportunity for political discussions.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30.

Ohio Township Water Deadline Extended

Deadline for applications for a proposed water distribution system in Ohio Township has been extended indefinitely, Daniel C. Baker of the Ohio Township Municipal Authority announced.

He said there are 161 signers so far, but more are needed. Baker said there still is a possibility of realizing the new system and said the authority would by no means drop the project.

He said a meeting will be called soon between the supervisors, the Fairview Grange and the authority to try and find a solution.

Bringing Up A Family

Enjoy Your Child's Fanciful Imagination

What is more delightful than to see and hear the little child taking his first and early flights on the wings of his imagination? Before he is two years old, he may begin to talk to creatures you can't see and act toward them as if were real. He may want you to drink tea from his imaginary cup, which may be only a bit of paper or nothing at all.

By Garry Meyers

He may talk and play for long periods with imaginary creatures. Some of them may have real names he invents and may maintain their individuality for many weeks or months.

How wonderful when you enjoy his fun with the creatures he invents! Still more wonderful if you write down some of his conversation with them.

I RECEIVED this letter from a New Mexico mother:

"I have been reading your column for some time now and enjoy it very much.

"I am glad to see that you think a child should be spanked once in a while. I have raised five and they always knew if they got in the street that they had a paddling coming.

"As a result, I could let them out in the yard while I did my work and they knew they must stay in their own yard, not go in the street, and answer me if I called them."

Then she wrote: "None of my other children had imaginary playmates but they each had brothers or sisters to play with. My last child is four years old and has no one at home with her, as the others are in school.

"Even a year ago, she had an imaginary playmate whose name is Judy. We have to close the car slowly so Judy can get in or we have to listen to see what Judy wants. Maybe that is carrying it too far, but the baby has spent many a happy hour talking to her friend and to me while I am doing my work and I talk to her and answer her in her play.

"I GUESS it is because I am older and also have more time that I enjoy her so much. I did not even know how to talk to my first faby. Or, at least, I felt like a fool to talk to her. I talked to the rest of them from the time they were born.

"Some girls are natural mothers and others have to learn it. I did not enjoy my first two children nearly as much as I enjoyed my last three. I was not raised around any smaller children and didn't care anything about them. All my children are crazy about babies. Even my boy isn't ashamed to show that he loves a baby, and it doesn't have to be ours.

"I think it will make it easier for them when they are parents, as they already love babies and I hardly knew what to do with my first one. I took care of it, but I didn't know how to love it or spoil it. I am glad that my children had brothers and sisters."

Parents who teach their tots early to obey are more likely than not to enjoy these children then and later.

Communist Guard Strikes Ohio Girl

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A Van Wert, Ohio, girl said she was slugged by a communist guard while she was handing out pamphlets at the Communist - sponsored Seventh World Youth Festival.

Anita Tanner, 20, said Saturday a guard grabbed a bundle of Agriculture pamphlets from her. Upon questioning by the guard, she told him the materials were to be used at a meeting of agricultural students. The guard then went into a building.

"I ran after him and asked him to give them back to me. Then I was grabbed from behind and someone hit me in the face very hard," she said.

Later Saturday, five Americans were detained briefly by police during a "Peace and Coexistence Parade." They were nabbed while handing out newspapers. The Americans were among a large anti-Communist segment in the American delegation to the festival.

One of the robbers, Joe Czabo, about 23, of Alliance, was shot, and the driver of the getaway car, Mike Fikete, was nabbed by grocer Sherwin Alberts, Brown said.

O'Neal was held on a charge of unlawful flight to escape prosecution.

Fencing Tips Given For Use In Courtyard

PORTLAND, Ore. — Americans are voracious consumers of home and garden ideas — both foreign-produced and home-grown.

A favorite subject for summertime scrutiny is fencing. Here, a householder sometimes bogs down in trying to choose among the many patterns and finishes available for fences. A good rule of thumb to apply is first to decide the purpose of the fence, then to select a style which will both do the job and compliment the home.

The case of the courtyard fence is a good example. Something to provide privacy is the prime requisite. Yet, it must be decorative. Screens, designed with a delicate touch in the manner of the Japanese, have proven popular for this situation. While insuring the sanctity of the yard, the screens have an airiness which prevents a wall-like appearance.

Built in four- or six-foot sections, the screens are made of 1-by-1-inch western red cedar strips nailed on a stout framework of 2-by-4-inch cedar. Four-by-four-inch cedar should be used for the posts.

It's always a smart idea to shun straight lines, particularly in the case of a courtyard where fencing is erected on two or more sides. Instead, the screens can be placed in offset fashion or the height of the sections varied for eye interest. Another idea is to alternate panels of fencing with clumps of tall, leafy shrubbery or bamboo groves.

Choosing the correct finish for the screens is easy. If the house features siding of western red cedar stained in either a cedar tone or driftwood, the fencing should match. White fences are the smartest choice for white painted homes. Colored siding calls for either white or natural wood shades in fencing.

One essential to good fence design is that it look as native to the site as possible. Planting greenery of various dimensions along the fence line turns the trick, also giving home owners a means of incorporating a personal touch into the plan.

'Automated' Paint Service Offered

Automation in paint color mixing has come to East Liverpool.

It is made possible by the new Kem Colormeter installed at Rutter's Paint and Wallpaper Store, 1200 Pennsylvania Ave., where Kenneth Rutter is currently mixing some 400 different colors in paint just about as fast as customers can name them.

"This new device greatly increases the number of colors we can provide for both interior decorating and exterior color styling," Rutter explained. "As a result, both professional and do - it-yourself home decorators are now able to have immediately practically any color they want."

Color selection is made from color samples displayed beside the color mixing machine. Or, the Color Harmony Guide, which shows at a glance some 1,500 decorator-designed room color harmonies, may be borrowed for color selection at home.

When a customer selects a color, the operator locates the formula for it in a convenient index file, then merely follows the indicated formula to create the color required. The entire operation takes only a few minutes.

Rutter's Paint and Wallpaper Store is one of the first stores in the country to have the Kem Colormeter, according to the Sherwin-Williams Co., which developed the color - mixing machine.

Boy Lights Christmas Tree—Damage Is $25

SPRINGFIELD, OHIO (AP) — It's a Yuletide tradition in the David Tucker family here to let their 5-year-old son, Patrick, light the Christmas tree.

But Mrs. Tucker never got around to throwing away last year's tree. There it stood on the back porch, brown, brittle and droopy.

But recently Patrick decided to light the tree once again. This time he used a match.

Firemen said the blaze did $25 damage to the porch.

The Washington Monument, 555 feet high, has a capstone made of 100 ounces of aluminum.

Automation in paint color mixing has come to East Liverpool.

It is made possible by the new Kem Colormeter installed at Rutter's Paint and Wallpaper Store, 1200 Pennsylvania Ave., where Kenneth Rutter is currently mixing some 400 different colors in paint just about as fast as customers can name them.

"This new device greatly increases the number of colors we can provide for both interior decorating and exterior color styling," Rutter explained. "As a result, both professional and do - it-yourself home decorators are now able to have immediately practically any color they want."

Color selection is made from color samples displayed beside the color mixing machine. Or, the Color Harmony Guide, which shows at a glance some 1,500 decorator-designed room color harmonies, may be borrowed for color selection at home.

When a customer selects a color, the operator locates the formula for it in a convenient index file, then merely follows the indicated formula to create the color required. The entire operation takes only a few minutes.

Rutter's Paint and Wallpaper Store is one of the first stores in the country to have the Kem Colormeter, according to the Sherwin-Williams Co., which developed the color - mixing machine.

Boy Lights Christmas Tree—Damage Is $25

SPRINGFIELD, OHIO (AP) — It's a Yuletide tradition in the David Tucker family here to let their 5-year-old son, Patrick, light the Christmas tree.

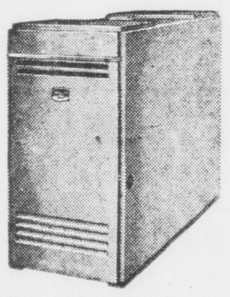

But Mrs. Tucker never got around to throwing away last year's tree. There it stood on the back porch, brown, brittle and droopy.

But recently Patrick decided to light the tree once again. This time he used a match.

Firemen said the blaze did $25 damage to the porch.

You Can Save On Mortgage By 'Shopping'

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Why is it that prospective home buyers will give so much attention to the price of a house and so little to the conditions of the mortgage?

A couple often will shop around for months to get the best possible buy for their money, only to lose all their financial advantage by accepting the terms of the first mortgage offered to them.

This is a subject I have discussed in the past. It comes to mind again in reading the text of a report issued by James M. Udall, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Amidst a lot of facts and figures about the residential mortgage market, this bit of advice stands out:

"Shop for your money in the same way that you shop for your house."

What's so difficult about visiting several banks to find the kind of mortgage that will best suit your needs? Yet very few people do it.

They are more inclined to want to "get it over with" when making a mortgage deal, seemingly not realizing that, over the years, one mortgage can cost them thousands of dollars more than another. Even one-quarter of a per cent difference in the interest rate is financially important.

Want the most favorable interest rates: Then remember these two vital points:

1.—Make the largest down payment possible.

2.—Accept a mortgage loan with the shortest possible pay-off period.

If you can't figure out how much more it will cost you to get a mortgage with a very small down payment and long pay-off period, have someone else do it for you. You'll probably be shocked to discover how much more it is going to cost you in the long run.

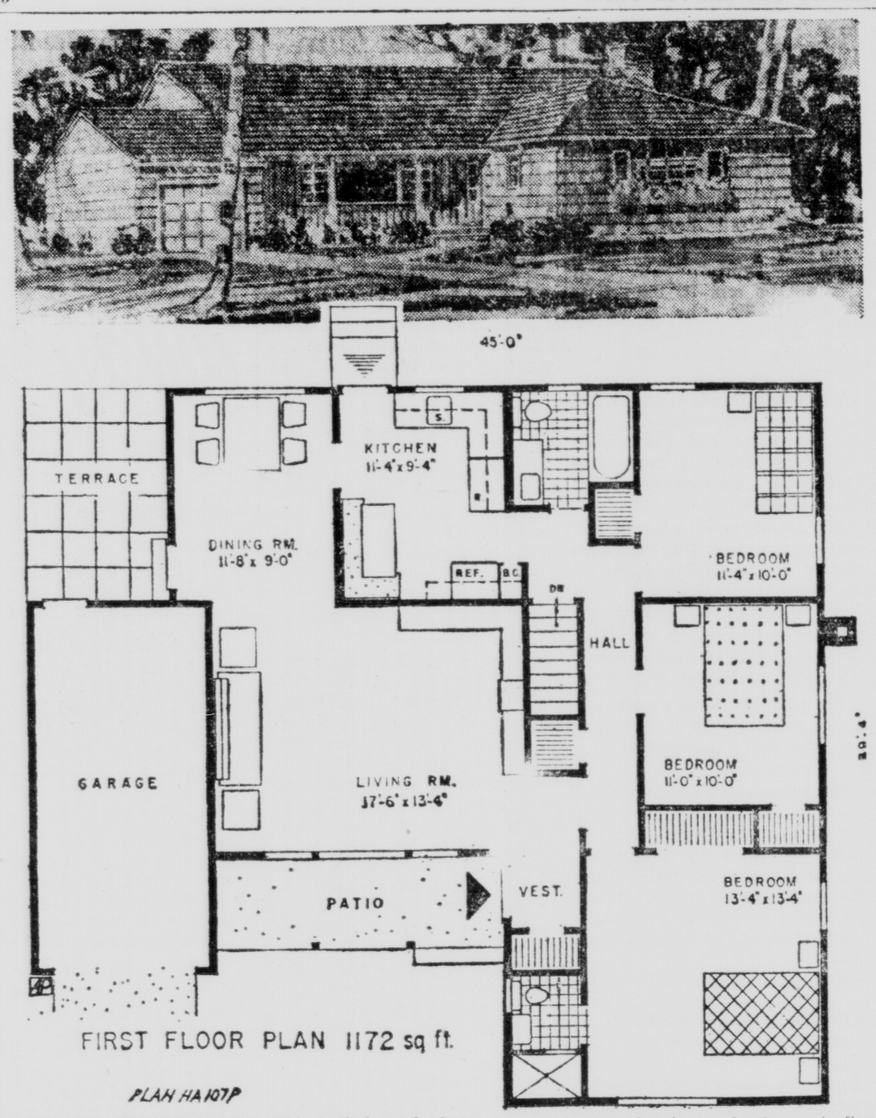

That "shop for your money in the same way that you shop for your house" is good advice indeed.

Experimental production will begin this fall of light-wall seamless tubing that can be shipped in ribbon form and then inflated at the point of use.

It is expected that this "field inflatability" will make it possible to ship the entire ductwork for the heating system of a seven-room house in a box the size of an orange crate instead of in trailer-truck loads.

A place with three swimming pools, five tennis courts, a long sandy beach, an ice-skating rink, a restaurant, an outdoor dining and dancing terrace, lounging rooms, shuffleboard courts, billiard tables, a yacht basin and a junior recreation area. A summer resort?

No. A new apartment house development in New York City. No wonder all the apartments were rented long before construction was completed.

SIMPLE AND CHARMING. This well-planned, six-room ranch has an abundance of extras not often found in a home of this size (1,172 square feet): covered entry porch, vestibule at entrance, full basement, terrace off dining room, wide roof overhangs for protection. The plan, HA107P, is by Architect Samuel Paul, 89-51 164 St., Jamaica, N. Y.

Eyesores Can Be Erased

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

It's the decorating bottlenecks that throw a room out of kilter.

One of these obstacles may be the air conditioner, necessary to the household, but jarring to the sensibilities of the occupants because it protrudes into the room like a swollen thumb.

Another is the big, awkward television set that parks like an ugly gargoyle in the room's best spot.

If the television set is papered or painted to match your walls, it will help minimize its appearance. The paint job is easy and achieves results that should complement the decor.

BEFORE YOU start the job, disconnect the television set from the wall outlet. Use a wax remover or paint thinner to remove any traces of furniture polish and any oily spots from the set. This should get rid of accumulated dirt, also.

The set, metal or wood, will probably have a glossy finish or enamel or varnish that will need to be dulled with sandpaper, steel wool or one of the new liquids designed for this purpose to give the paint a chance to adhere.

Wooden cabinets may require a second preparatory step. The stain used in the wood may bleed through the new coating until it is sealed off with shellac.

If a set is made of plastic, it is a good idea to find out whether the solvent used in the wallpaint will attack the plastic.

Just put a touch of paint in an unobtrusive place to be sure that nothing odd results before you attempt to coat the entire thing. If the paint used is a water-thinned latex, that precaution will not be necessary.

All knobs and other controls should be removed before you paint to make the job easier. Masking tape will protect metal parts and the screen.

One of the quick-drying cleansers that leave a powdery film also may offer protection to the screen. When you wash away the film, splatters go with it.

IF IT HAS been a long time since the walls were painted, it is wise to select a paint for the set that is a bit darker than the shade originally used on the walls. If you are doing the entire room at the same time you repaint the television set, there is no problem.

It's best to paint the top of the set first so that any drippings can be worked into the sides when you do them. One coat of paint should cover satisfactorily, but if the paint is a light color it may be necessary to use two coats to hide the old color.

CAMOUFLAGE. This air-conditioning unit has been camouflaged by covering it with fabric that matches the draperies. The thin line of the unit helps.

Woman Survives Plane Crash Fatal To Three Others

OKMULGEE, Okla. (AP) — "I found that water pond, and I just drank and drank, that water tasted so good," said the lone survivor of a plane crash which killed three other persons Saturday night.

Mrs. Jewell Lois Hamby, 43, of Kennett, Mo., told how she had spent the night near the wreckage, then crawled and staggered Sunday morning to a nearby home. It turned out to be the home of the dead pilot's parents.

Killed were pilot John L. Lane, 35, La Habra, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Lane of Okmulgee; Mrs. Emma Shanks, 73, and her sister, Mrs. Agnes Tidwell, 63, both of Kennett. Mrs. Hamby, hospitalized in serious condition, said she, her mother, and her aunt were returning from a California visit.

Mrs. Lane said Mrs. Hamby had appeared at their home about 8 a.m. The Lanes took her to the hospital. At first the injured woman mumbled the pilot was her brother. Then at the hospital she mentioned the name Lane.

"That must be my son," cried Mrs. Lane. The couple rushed back and found the wreckage, obscured by high weeds, about 300 yards from their home.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I help eradicate the blackheads from my skin?

A. Take a tablespoon of oatmeal and one of cornmeal, and mix this with some soap and water. Rub this over the blackhead-infested area of your skin, and scrub with a complexion brush.

Q. How can I pull out the stuck drawer in a chest or bureau when one of the knobs has come off and disappeared?

A. Try using the rubber suction cup of a plumber's force pump against the drawer. It should give you the needed pull to open the drawer.

Q. How can I make a neat and easy job of watering my house plants?

A. Just by setting one or more ice cubes in each planter. Placed on top of the soil, the cubes will water the plants as the ice melts.

Steel Walkout Losses Near Billion Mark

CLEVELAND (AP)—If the steel strike is settled before Labor Day, the metalworking industry still could earn record profits this year, "Steel" magazine said today.

Meanwhile, the magazine said, losses resulting from the strike are nearing the billion - dollar mark.

With many firms marking up record earnings in the first half, "Steel" observed:

"The steel strike is setting the stage for the best fourth quarter in the nation's history. The longer the strike goes, the quicker the recovery will be once settlement is reached. The high peak for the fourth quarter will probably be the middle of November, with a repeat just before Christmas."

Strike losses were estimated by "Steel" like this:

To the workers, 208 million dollars in wages.

To the industry, 558 million dollars in sales and 5,662,000 ingot tons of steel production.

To the government, 45 million dollars a week in taxes.

Production in the steel industry last week was at 12½ per cent of rated capacity, down from the previous week's revised rate of 12.9 per cent. Total production was 354,000 ingot tons.

The scrap steel market is steady to strong, "Steel" said. The magazine's composite price for No. 1 heavy melting scrap remained unchanged at $38.67 for the third straight week.

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP) — Lt. Col. Jay Casagrande was enroute to a new assignment at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base at Tucson and stopped to spend the night at Casa Grande.

When he signed the register as Col. Casagrande and wife, the motel owner protested.

"I'm tired of people signing phony names. Sign correctly."

Casagrande argued, but to no avail.

He signed again and was allowed to spend the night. His second registration card read, "Mr. and Mrs. George Washington."

Papers Show Concern Over 'Tired' Queen

LONDON (AP) — British newspapers today published pictures of Queen Elizabeth II looking tired, with a lined face, after her return from Canada. The papers voiced renewed concern for her health.

The Queen and Prince Philip returned Sunday from a 16,000-mile trip across North America. The monarch described it as "strenuous but intensely interesting."

Beneath the big headline "Never Again!" the Daily Herald printed a huge photograph of the Queen looking dull-eyed. Lines, not seen before, furrowed her brow and marred her famed peaches and cream complexion.

"The Queen's step seemed slow and her smile was not the quick infectious one which usually lights her face," said the Daily Sketch.

The Daily Telegraph and the Daily Mail agreed the tour was too arduous and that future royal tours should be more frequent but of shorter duration.

Newspaper criticism first came up several weeks ago when a stomach upset in the Yukon Territory forced her to rest for two days.

Workers Return At Niles Steel Mill

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Production resumed at Mahoning Valley Steel Co. in nearby Niles today after a month-long walkout by United Steelworkers Local 86.

Some 400 workers at the steel fabricating plant, a subsidiary of General Electric Corp., were idled by the walkout July 1.

They returned to work under a 30 - day extension of a contract which expired at midnight July 31.

Asked why the strike started a month before the union's contract expired, a company executive said only that there had been some misunderstanding, which had been straightened out.

Local 86 struck the day basic steel contracts were due to expire. The United Steelworkers agreed to a two-week extension and struck major steel producers July 15 when negotiators failed to reach agreement.

Mahoning Valley Steel and the union agreed to follow the pattern established in any basic steel agreement.

Man Wounds Wife And Kills Himself

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A young husband shot and killed himself near here Sunday after wounding his estranged wife, sheriff's deputies reported.

Dead is Ralph Bundy, 25. His wife, Genevieve, 21, was reported in serious condition at Trumbull Memorial Hospital, where Bundy died two hours after the shooting.

The couple had been separated and Mrs. Bundy had filed for a divorce, deputies said. The shooting took place at the home in Mecca Twp. where Bundy had been living alone since the separation. The couple has a 3-year-old son.

Mrs. Bundy, who has been living with a brother in Fowler, had gone to the house to check some furniture she planned to take. As she was going upstairs, Bundy pulled out a .22-caliber pistol, shot her twice and then shot himself in the head, deputies said.

Man-Bearing Type Capsule Will Get Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first man-carrying type of space capsule is scheduled for launch-unoccupied, next month.

It will be sent up from Cape Canaveral, Fla., by a vehicle called Big Joe, essentially a modified Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile.

The conventional Atlas, 75 feet tall, climbs to altitudes of several hundred miles and delivers its warhead at speeds of more than 15,000 miles an hour over a range of up to 6,300 miles.

Big Joe, by contrast, will rise vertically to about 120 miles, then tilts at right angles and slightly downward.

With its mighty engine still putting out full power, it will thunder down a slanted course through the earth's thickening atmosphere.

The purpose: a maximum test of the ablation or heat erosion of the outer space of the space capsule's nose.

The space capsule atop the Atlas in Big Joe is the same weight —2,100 to 2,200 pounds—and will have the same instrumentation and pressurized compartment as the man-in-space capsule but will not have the environmental equipment required to keep a man alive.

Shoes Link Man To Theft Of Auto

LISBON — A Florida man faces a hearing today before Mayor John Todd because he was wearing shoes taken from a car stolen here Saturday. He is accused of auto larceny, Police Chief Dalton Pike said.

Eugene Hunter, 24, of Jacksonville was arrested by Stark County authorities at the request of Patrolman Leon Zahrndt after a 1959 Plymouth, stolen from Leland Biggins of Thomas Rd., was found abandoned at the pony barn at the fairgrounds about 4:30 p. m. Sunday by Constable William Hiscox.

Biggins reported his car stolen Saturday afternoon with $17 worth of groceries and a pair of brown shoes in it. Officer Zahrndt traced the car to a local gas station and attendants said they washed the car for Hunter. The wheels and tires were missing when found at the pony barn.

Stoney Roberts Thrill Show was playing Saturday at the fairgrounds and Hunter had sought employment with them as a motorcycle rider, it was learned. The thrill show played in Canton Sunday evening and he was picked up wearing the shoes belonging to Biggins. He was returned to Lisbon late Sunday. He admitted taking the car and driving it into Pennsylvania. Biggins claims the car was driven about 200 miles.

The FBI will be notified as the car was taken across the state line. A billfold belonging to a New Castle man was found on Hunter and it is being checked out for possibly another charge.

Boy Drowns In Lake

Walking Grandmother Still Leading Wagons

PENDLETON, Ore. (AP)—Mrs. Emma Gatewood, 71, the walking grandmother from Gallipolis, Ohio, is still ahead of the Oregon Centennial Wagon Train.

The train, publicizing the state's centennial, got here Saturday. But Mrs. Gatewood was reported west of Boardman, Ore., several days ahead of the train.

Wagonmaster Tex Serpa was presented with some tennis shoes at a celebration—they had been discarded by Mrs. Gatewood when she passed through here.

The grandmother started from Independence, Mo., and is headed for Portland.

Papers Show Concern Over 'Tired' Queen

LONDON (AP) — British newspapers today published pictures of Queen Elizabeth II looking tired, with a lined face, after her return from Canada. The papers voiced renewed concern for her health.

The Queen and Prince Philip returned Sunday from a 16,000-mile trip across North America. The monarch described it as "strenuous but intensely interesting."

Beneath the big headline "Never Again!" the Daily Herald printed a huge photograph of the Queen looking dull-eyed. Lines, not seen before, furrowed her brow and marred her famed peaches and cream complexion.

"The Queen's step seemed slow and her smile was not the quick infectious one which usually lights her face," said the Daily Sketch.

The Daily Telegraph and the Daily Mail agreed the tour was too arduous and that future royal tours should be more frequent but of shorter duration.

Newspaper criticism first came up several weeks ago when a stomach upset in the Yukon Territory forced her to rest for two days.

Workers Return At Niles Steel Mill

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Production resumed at Mahoning Valley Steel Co. in nearby Niles today after a month-long walkout by United Steelworkers Local 86.

Some 400 workers at the steel fabricating plant, a subsidiary of General Electric Corp., were idled by the walkout July 1.

They returned to work under a 30 - day extension of a contract which expired at midnight July 31.

Asked why the strike started a month before the union's contract expired, a company executive said only that there had been some misunderstanding, which had been straightened out.

Local 86 struck the day basic steel contracts were due to expire. The United Steelworkers agreed to a two-week extension and struck major steel producers July 15 when negotiators failed to reach agreement.

Mahoning Valley Steel and the union agreed to follow the pattern established in any basic steel agreement.

Man Wounds Wife And Kills Himself

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A young husband shot and killed himself near here Sunday after wounding his estranged wife, sheriff's deputies reported.

Dead is Ralph Bundy, 25. His wife, Genevieve, 21, was reported in serious condition at Trumbull Memorial Hospital, where Bundy died two hours after the shooting.

The couple had been separated and Mrs. Bundy had filed for a divorce, deputies said. The shooting took place at the home in Mecca Twp. where Bundy had been living alone since the separation. The couple has a 3-year-old son.

Mrs. Bundy, who has been living with a brother in Fowler, had gone to the house to check some furniture she planned to take. As she was going upstairs, Bundy pulled out a .22-caliber pistol, shot her twice and then shot himself in the head, deputies said.

Man-Bearing Type Capsule Will Get Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first man-carrying type of space capsule is scheduled for launch-unoccupied, next month.

It will be sent up from Cape Canaveral, Fla., by a vehicle called Big Joe, essentially a modified Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile.

The conventional Atlas, 75 feet tall, climbs to altitudes of several hundred miles and delivers its warhead at speeds of more than 15,000 miles an hour over a range of up to 6,300 miles.

Big Joe, by contrast, will rise vertically to about 120 miles, then tilts at right angles and slightly downward.

With its mighty engine still putting out full power, it will thunder down a slanted course through the earth's thickening atmosphere.

The purpose: a maximum test of the ablation or heat erosion of the outer space of the space capsule's nose.

The space capsule atop the Atlas in Big Joe is the same weight —2,100 to 2,200 pounds—and will have the same instrumentation and pressurized compartment as the man-in-space capsule but will not have the environmental equipment required to keep a man alive.

Shoes Link Man To Theft Of Auto

LISBON — A Florida man faces a hearing today before Mayor John Todd because he was wearing shoes taken from a car stolen here Saturday. He is accused of auto larceny, Police Chief Dalton Pike said.

Eugene Hunter, 24, of Jacksonville was arrested by Stark County authorities at the request of Patrolman Leon Zahrndt after a 1959 Plymouth, stolen from Leland Biggins of Thomas Rd., was found abandoned at the pony barn at the fairgrounds about 4:30 p. m. Sunday by Constable William Hiscox.

Biggins reported his car stolen Saturday afternoon with $17 worth of groceries and a pair of brown shoes in it. Officer Zahrndt traced the car to a local gas station and attendants said they washed the car for Hunter. The wheels and tires were missing when found at the pony barn.

Stoney Roberts Thrill Show was playing Saturday at the fairgrounds and Hunter had sought employment with them as a motorcycle rider, it was learned. The thrill show played in Canton Sunday evening and he was picked up wearing the shoes belonging to Biggins. He was returned to Lisbon late Sunday. He admitted taking the car and driving it into Pennsylvania. Biggins claims the car was driven about 200 miles.

The FBI will be notified as the car was taken across the state line. A billfold belonging to a New Castle man was found on Hunter and it is being checked out for possibly another charge.

Boy Drowns In Lake

Walking Grandmother Still Leading Wagons

PENDLETON, Ore. (AP)—Mrs. Emma Gatewood, 71, the walking grandmother from Gallipolis, Ohio, is still ahead of the Oregon Centennial Wagon Train.

The train, publicizing the state's centennial, got here Saturday. But Mrs. Gatewood was reported west of Boardman, Ore., several days ahead of the train.

Wagonmaster Tex Serpa was presented with some tennis shoes at a celebration—they had been discarded by Mrs. Gatewood when she passed through here.

The grandmother started from Independence, Mo., and is headed for Portland.

Midland Nips Wampum To Win 4th Non-Pro Tourney

Gains NBC Finals At Wichita, Kan.

By BOB DUFFY

Doing it the hard way, Midland USW won its fourth Pennsylvania Non-Pro championship in five years by taking a doubleheader from Wampum Sunday at the Crucible Field.

Needing two victories Sunday against the undefeated Wampum nine, Midland captured the afternoon game, 4-3 in 10 innings, then came back Sunday night to win the championship, 3-1.

The two victories send Midland to Wichita, Kan., and the finals of the National Baseball Congress tournament, which will get under way Aug. 14.

A NEW NBC strikeout record and the first no-hitter ever pitched in a Pennsylvania Non-Pro tourney was turned in by Ed Smrekar of Midland Saturday night in a 9-0 victory over a strong Levittown outfit.

Smrekar not only hurled the no-hitter but fanned 23 batters for the new strikeout mark. The southpaw was brought in from Erie by Manager Art Petrosky.

In the championship contest Sunday night, Midland's winning margin came on two unearned runs as the result of errors by Wampum shortstop Don Schena, leading scorer for the Geneva basketball team last season.

Another lefthander, Paul McGrath, was sent to the mound by Petrosky and responded with a beautifully pitched four-hitter, which included 15 strikeouts.

McGrath lost his shutout in the ninth inning when he loaded the bases then walked in the only run.

Both McGrath and Wampum's Don Kosier had no-hitters going through the first three innings.

MIDLAND drew first blood with an unearned run in the fifth when Moe Masotti walked and McGrath got the first hit off Kosier, a drag bunt single to the first base side of the infield.

John Zawoysky flied to centerfield and Masotti tagged up at second and then went over to third.

George Bradshaw hit a grounder to Schena, who fumbled the ball, allowing Masotti to score. Fran Haus flied to centerfield to end the inning.

The USW nine came up with two more runs in the eighth inning. Bradshaw led off with a single to centerfield and moved to second on a sacrifice. Kosier attempted to pick Bradshaw off second, but the throw went into centerfield and Bradshaw streaked to third.

Phil Hewitt popped out, but Joe Petraglia hit a grounder to Schena, who missed the ball again and Bradshaw scored the second run.

George Siford walked, putting Pegraglia on second. Kosier attempted another pickoff at first base and Petraglia hustled to third.

Some smart base running paid off for another run when Siford stole second and on the throw to second Petraglia raced home from third.

TWO SINGLES and an error loaded the bases for Wampum in the ninth inning when the visitors scored their lone run.

John Novalesi opened with a single to left and Bob Markey, a pinch-hitter, singled to rightfield. Schena's ground ball was fumbled by Masotti to load the sacks.

McGrath gave up his second walk of the game to Don Costa, former Notre Dame gridder, forcing in Novalesi.

A double play pulled McGrath out of a jam and ended the contest, when Swogger grounded to Haus at second. Haus tagged the runner coming from first and whipped the ball over to first for the twin-killing.

An attempted intentional pass which turned into a sacrifice fly led to Midland's victory in the first game Sunday.

The USW nine trailed 3-2 in the ninth. George Siford walked to open the inning and Smreher came through with a pinch-hit single to right field sending Siford to third.

Kaiser relieved starter Joe Cioffi and attempted to give veteran George Bradshaw an intentional pass. Bradshaw watched three pitches go by and on the fourth reached across the plate and sent a fly to left field.

Siford tagged up and came across with the tieing run.

In the last of the ninth, Wampum put two men on base and with one out Midland pulled off a double play to get out of the inning.

THE WINNING run crossed the plate at the top of the 10th when Hewitt walked and was sacrificed to second. Moe Masotti then proved the hero of the day by smacking a sharp single to leftfield which sent Hewitt flying across the plate to give Midland the 4-3 victory.

Although Don Hennon, the All-American cager from Pitt reached third in the Wampum half of the 10th on a single and a two-base error in right field, Smrekar, who relieved starter Bob Tice in the ninth inning, set down the side as Hennon died on third ending the contest.

Cioffi was tough for eight innings, giving up only four hits until he had to be removed in the ninth.

In Saturday night's contest, Smrekar, the classy southpaw, established a new National Baseball Congress mark by fanning 23 Levittown batters.

Only two balls were hit out of the infield off Smrekar, who struck out the side through the first six innings. He gave up three walks and two errors were committed behind him.

Accumulating a total of 18 strikeouts in six innings, he added two in the seventh, a pair in the eighth and fanned one in the final inning.

Helped by seven Levittown errors, Midland collected nine hits off Al McCullough. Midland tallied single runs in the first, second, third and fifth frames, scored two in the fourth and added three in the ninth.

Hewitt, the former Georgetown star, who at one time was the property of the Phillies, smacked a triple and double. Smrekar helped his own cause with a double.

Yancy was caught off first base and in a rundown was hit in the face on a throw from first baseman George Bradshaw. He was examined by a local physician.

Francona's 3-Run Homer Gives Tribe Split

Raps 7 Out Of 8; Now Hitting .417

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians played .625 baseball on the 16-game home stand which concluded Sunday.

Yet they lost three games in the standings to the red-hot Chicago White Sox.

The Indians, leading Chicago by two percentage points when they came home July 21, won 10 out of the 16. But the Sox took a three-game lead in the American League pennant race by grabbing 11 of 12.

The Indians managed a split Sunday with Baltimore on Tito Francona's torrid bat. Francona had four singles as Cleveland bowed to the Orioles 5-4 in 10 innings, then broke up the nightcap with a three-run homer in the ninth inning to give the Tribe a 6-3 decision.

Francona had seven hits in eight trips to raise his average to .417. The only time he was retired—in the seventh inning of the second game—it took a diving catch by third baseman Brooks Robinson to do it. Robinson grabbed Tito's liner with two on and two out.

Gary Bell (11-9) went the distnce for the Indians in the nightcap, although he yielded a dozen hits. Billy O'Dell (6-9), who relieved starter Milt Pappas at the start of the ninth, took the loss.

In the opener, the Orioles sprayed 15 singles — many of them bloopers and infield hits — off starter Cal McLish and Al Cicotte (2-1), who pitched the final two frames and was tagged with the loss.

Rookie Barry Shetrone bunted for his fourth hit to start the uprising. Joe Ginsberg drew a walk and Walt Dropo sacrificed the runners along.

Willie Miranda then hit a high bounder to the mound as Shetrone came streaking for the plate. Cicotte fielded the ball, but didn't have a play.

Cleveland's first three runs in the opener came on home runs—by Rocky Colavito and Woodie Held. Colavito hit his in the fourth inning with Francona aboard. Rocky's 31st home run put the Tribe in front 2-1.

Held's 20th home run padded the lead to 3-1 in the fifth.

Trailing by two runs, the Orioles regained the lead 4-3 on a pinch-hitter Gene Woodling's bases-loaded single and a sacrifice fly by Albie Pearson, another pinch swinger, in the eighth.

But the Indians bounced back to tie it 4-4 on Billy Martin's single, a passed ball and Minnie Minoso's clutch single.

The nightcap was another tense contest. The Indians took a 1-0 lead in the third inning on Minoso's single and Francona's double. Another run came across in the fourth inning. Jim Baxes singled and Russ Nixon doubled, but Baxes was out at the plate. Nixon took third on the play and came in when Bill Gardner bobbled Bell's grounder.

The Orioles tied it 2-2 in the sixth on singles by Al Pilarcik and Woodling and a double by Robinson off Baxes' knee at third base.

The lead then see-sawed. In the eighth, George Strickland walked and Nixon drove a two-out triple to right, his third hit of the game, to put the Indians ahead 3-2. A single by Pearson and Billy Klaus' double evened it up again in the ninth.

Francona then drove his 11th home run into the right field seats, following singles by Martin and Minoso, and the 34,682 fans went home in a happy mood.

The crowd boosted the Indians' home attendance to 1,009,562—the first time in four years it has passed a million.

Cleveland goes to Washington Tuesday night for the start of a four-game series with the Senators, who are due to win any day now. They have lost 16 in a row.

THE INDIANS' Minnie Minoso (right) offers a congratulatory handshake to Tito Francona after the latter broke up the second Orioles-Tribe game Sunday with a 3-run homer in the ninth inning. Nationals, Americans Meet Today In 'Exhibition' Tilt At Los Angeles

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There was a 24-hour truce in the redhot major league pennant races today as interest switched to the season's second All-Star Game.

Casey Stengel, already beleaguered by the grave problems of his own New York Yankees, faced new troubles as pilot of the American League squad.

Intensity of the flag race in his league apparently left the old warrior with only two rested pitchers, Baltimore's Jerry Walker (8-5) and Pete Ramos (10-13) of Washington.

Manager Fred Haney of Milwaukee was set to lead off with ace right-hander Don Drysdale of Los Angeles for the Nationals.

Today's all-star affair was the second edition of 1959, and the American all-stars were seeking revenge for their 5-4 loss at Pittsburgh July 7.

The site is big Memorial Coliseum, the time for the game 4 p.m., and upwards of 50,000 are expected to brave 90-degree-plus heat for Los Angeles' first turn as host of the event.

The brass was here, including Commissioner Ford Frick and the rival league presidents, Joe Cronin of the American and Warren Giles of the National, plus other top names in the game.

But the eyes of the fans were set for the galaxy of stars, and doubtless the Coliseum's controversial left field screen, which stands 250 feet from home plate at the foul line and rises 40 feet.

Haney is well acquainted with the screen. Stengel is no total stranger to it. He saw it when his Yankees played Los Angeles in the Roy Campanella benefit earlier this year before a crowd of 93,103—largest in U.S. baseball history.

Stengel was set to start fireballer Ryne Duren of New York. This would have been a dilly. But he had to use Duren for 3 2-3 innings against Kansas City Sunday.

Four other American League all-star hurlers were pressed into action Sunday. They were Hoyt Wilhelm and Billy O'Dell of Baltimore, Cal McLish of Cleveland, and Bud Daley of Kansas City. Still another, Early Wynn of Chicago, has an injured ankle.

Walker was belatedly named Sunday to replace his teammate, catcher Gus Triandos, and Ramos was subbed for teammate Camilo Pascual. Triandos and Pascual had injuries.

Walker pitched one inning in relief Saturday, and Ramos last pitched Friday night. He has lost five straight.

So Casey had his problems.

The right-handers are Frank Malzone of Boston, Luis Aparicio of Chicago, and Walker.

Haney's initial batting order reads: Johnny Temple of Cincinnati, Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee, Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, Willie Mays of San Francisco, Ernie Banks of the Cubs, Stan Musial of St. Louis, Wally Moon of the Dodgers, Del Crandall of the Braves, and Drysdale.

Chicago Helps Senators Continue Losing Streak

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

After Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox bunt and run you dizzy, Al Lopez waves in Turk Lown or Gerry Staley to shut the door in your face.

That is the reason the Chicago White Sox are three games out front in the American League today and pulling away fast. Except for the runner-up Cleveland Indians, the rest of the league is fading into the gloaming. Both Baltimore and Kansas City, tied for third, are 11 games back. And the Yankees? They are 12 games down in fourth place.

The little men did it again Sunday in the first game with Washington, slashing and racing to upset the punchy Senators. Trailing 2-1 in the last of the ninth, Aparicio opened with a single. Fox bunted and catcher Steve Korcheck threw the ball away. Aparicio scored and Fox dashed to third. Two intentional walks loaded the bases and Billy Goodman plunked a fly ball single into left over a drawn in outfield for a 3-2 victory.

Lown, who took over after Billy Pierce left for a pinch hitter in the eighth, won his eighth despite a shaky ninth inning. It was his fifth straight.

Again in the second game, when Bob Shaw began to stumble in the eighth, in came Staley to breeze through 1 1-3 hitless innings, saving Shaw's 10th victory, 9-3.

Washington hit the only home runs. Faye Throneberry got No. 9 in the first game and Jim Lemon No. 24 in the second. But the Senators lost their 15th and 16th in a row, only two short of their club record set in 1948.

Chicago now has won six straight and 11 of its last 12 games. Since the first All-Star break they have a 19-5 record. Their opening game victory was their 26th by one run.

Cleveland lost ground by dropping a 5-4 decision to Baltimore in 10 innings. Willie Miranda beat out a high bounder to the mound, driving in the winning run. That one little hit minimized Rocky Colavito's 31st homer and Woody Held's 20th.

Tito Francona's seventh hit of the day, a three-run homer off Billy O'Dell in the ninth gave Cleveland a 6-3 decision in the second game. Francona had four singles in the first game and a double and single before his homer. The only time the Orioles got him out was when third baseman Brooks Robinson made a diving catch of a line drive.

Gary Bell won his 11th in the second while Al Cicotte lost his first on relief in the opener. Hoyt Wilhelm was Baltimore's winner and O'Dell, who worked in both games, dropped the second. Cleveland's attendance soared over the million mark to 1,009,562 with the turnout of 34,682.

Elston Howard drove in four runs with two singles and a double in New York's 7-5 victory over Kansas City. Ryne Duren struck out seven in 3 2-3 shutout innings but Duke Maas was the winner over Bob Grim.

Jackie Jensen's three-run homer and Frank Malzone's two-run blast provided all the runs in Boston's 5-4 decision over Detroit. Charlie Maxwell hit his 23rd and his 11th Sunday home run. Ike Delock won in relief over starter Paul Foytack.

The footabll series between Illinois and Northwestern is all even. Each team has won 24 games. Four ended in ties.

Buffalo Captures Another Twin Bill

By The Associated Press

The Buffalo Bisons, with a 10-game lead in the International League, have no secrets about their streak of 16 victories in 20 games since July 15. They spell their success story in two words: P-o-w-e-r and H-e-r-r-e-r-a.

The power is found in the batting statistics that give the Bisons team leadership in home runs, doubles and runs batted in.

Herrera—the big first baseman whose first name is Frank—leads the league in home runs (30), runs batted in (99) and in second in batting with .342.

Both were working Sunday as the Bisons swept a doubleheader from Richmond, 5-4 and 9-3. Herrera went 5-for-9 with six RBI.

Havana took undisputed possession of second place with a 2-1 victory in 16 innings over Toronto in the first game of a doubleheader. The second was called after four innings with Havana leading 3-0 and will be completed tonight. Montreal beat Miami 5-3 before losing 2-0.

Tito May Not Be Eligible For Batting Crown In AL

CLEVELAND (AP)—Tito Francona, the new hero of the Cleveland baseball fans, says he has no secret for his sensational hitting. "I just keep swinging at that ball."

Francona whacked seven hits in a doubleheader with the Baltimore Orioles Sunday, winning the nightcap with a three-run homer in the ninth inning to break a 3-3 tie. The Orioles took the opener 5-4 in 10 innings and Tito had four singles.

The only time he was retired in the twinbill was in the seventh inning of the second game and it took a diving catch by Oriole third baseman Brooks Robinson to snare Tito's hot line drive.

With his seven-for-eight spree, the 25-year-old Francona lifted his already lofty average 18 points to .417. He has only a slim chance to be eligible for the American League batting title, however, since he has been to the plate only 237 times. To be eligible he needs to come to bat almost five times in each of the Indians' remaining 50 games to fulfill the required 477 appearances.

Defending Champions Repeat Country Club Putting Titles

Two defending champions repeated in the putting championships Saturday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Some 100 competed in the tourney, won by Don Smith in the men's division and Mrs. J. M. Wells in the women's division.

Smith defeated Joseph M. Wells Jr. in the first division play, while Don Burbick won the second division, Dr. C. A. Gerace the third and J. A. Roslund the fourth.

Mrs. Wells retained her title by defeating Mrs. M. Burnett.

Second division play was won by Mrs. William R. Kelly, while Mrs. W. L. McCutcheon finished on top in the third division.

All players qualified in an 18-hole event for positions in the match play.

Mrs. Andrew Petrick won the women's qualifying medalist honors with 33 putts, while Don E. Smith took the men's medalist play with 33.

Winners and runners-up were presented trophies. Prizes were awarded the medalists.

Women's guest day will be held at the club Wednesday morning.

Gains NBC Finals At Wichita, Kan.

By BOB DUFFY

Doing it the hard way, Midland USW won its fourth Pennsylvania Non-Pro championship in five years by taking a doubleheader from Wampum Sunday at the Crucible Field.

Needing two victories Sunday against the undefeated Wampum nine, Midland captured the afternoon game, 4-3 in 10 innings, then came back Sunday night to win the championship, 3-1.

The two victories send Midland to Wichita, Kan., and the finals of the National Baseball Congress tournament, which will get under way Aug. 14.

A NEW NBC strikeout record and the first no-hitter ever pitched in a Pennsylvania Non-Pro tourney was turned in by Ed Smrekar of Midland Saturday night in a 9-0 victory over a strong Levittown outfit.

Smrekar not only hurled the no-hitter but fanned 23 batters for the new strikeout mark. The southpaw was brought in from Erie by Manager Art Petrosky.

In the championship contest Sunday night, Midland's winning margin came on two unearned runs as the result of errors by Wampum shortstop Don Schena, leading scorer for the Geneva basketball team last season.

Another lefthander, Paul McGrath, was sent to the mound by Petrosky and responded with a beautifully pitched four-hitter, which included 15 strikeouts.

McGrath lost his shutout in the ninth inning when he loaded the bases then walked in the only run.

Both McGrath and Wampum's Don Kosier had no-hitters going through the first three innings.

MIDLAND drew first blood with an unearned run in the fifth when Moe Masotti walked and McGrath got the first hit off Kosier, a drag bunt single to the first base side of the infield.

John Zawoysky flied to centerfield and Masotti tagged up at second and then went over to third.

George Bradshaw hit a grounder to Schena, who fumbled the ball, allowing Masotti to score. Fran Haus flied to centerfield to end the inning.

The USW nine came up with two more runs in the eighth inning. Bradshaw led off with a single to centerfield and moved to second on a sacrifice. Kosier attempted to pick Bradshaw off second, but the throw went into centerfield and Bradshaw streaked to third.

Phil Hewitt popped out, but Joe Petraglia hit a grounder to Schena, who missed the ball again and Bradshaw scored the second run.

George Siford walked, putting Pegraglia on second. Kosier attempted another pickoff at first base and Petraglia hustled to third.

Some smart base running paid off for another run when Siford stole second and on the throw to second Petraglia raced home from third.

TWO SINGLES and an error loaded the bases for Wampum in the ninth inning when the visitors scored their lone run.

John Novalesi opened with a single to left and Bob Markey, a pinch-hitter, singled to rightfield. Schena's ground ball was fumbled by Masotti to load the sacks.

McGrath gave up his second walk of the game to Don Costa, former Notre Dame gridder, forcing in Novalesi.

A double play pulled McGrath out of a jam and ended the contest, when Swogger grounded to Haus at second. Haus tagged the runner coming from first and whipped the ball over to first for the twin-killing.

An attempted intentional pass which turned into a sacrifice fly led to Midland's victory in the first game Sunday.

The USW nine trailed 3-2 in the ninth. George Siford walked to open the inning and Smreher came through with a pinch-hit single to right field sending Siford to third.

Kaiser relieved starter Joe Cioffi and attempted to give veteran George Bradshaw an intentional pass. Bradshaw watched three pitches go by and on the fourth reached across the plate and sent a fly to left field.

Siford tagged up and came across with the tieing run.

In the last of the ninth, Wampum put two men on base and with one out Midland pulled off a double play to get out of the inning.

THE WINNING run crossed the plate at the top of the 10th when Hewitt walked and was sacrificed to second. Moe Masotti then proved the hero of the day by smacking a sharp single to leftfield which sent Hewitt flying across the plate to give Midland the 4-3 victory.

Although Don Hennon, the All-American cager from Pitt reached third in the Wampum half of the 10th on a single and a two-base error in right field. Smrekar, who relieved starter Bob Tice in the ninth inning, set down the side as Hennon died on third ending the contest.

Cioffi was tough for eight innings, giving up only four hits until he had to be removed in the ninth.

In Saturday night's contest, Smrekar, the classy southpaw, established a new National Baseball Congress mark by fanning 23 Levittown batters.

Only two balls were hit out of the infield off Smrekar, who struck out the side through the first six innings. He gave up three walks and two errors were committed behind him.

Accumulating a total of 18 strikeouts in six innings, he added two in the seventh, a pair in the eighth and fanned one in the final inning.

Helped by seven Levittown errors, Midland collected nine hits off Al McCullough. Midland tallied single runs in the first, second, third and fifth frames, scored two in the fourth and added three in the ninth.

Hewitt, the former Georgetown star, who at one time was the property of the Phillies, smacked a triple and double. Smrekar helped his own cause with a double.

Geneva Star Injured During Final Game

Tom Yancy, a three sports star at Geneva College who played rightfield for Wampum in the Non-Pro tourney at Midland, suffered a fractured nose when hit with a baseball in the fourth inning of the championship game Sunday night. Yancy was caught off first base and in a rundown was hit in the face on a throw from first baseman George Bradshaw. He was examined by a local physician.

Raps 7 Out Of 8; Now Hitting .417

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians played .625 baseball on the 16-game home stand which concluded Sunday.

Yet they lost three games in the standings to the red-hot Chicago White Sox.

The Indians, leading Chicago by two percentage points when they came home July 21, won 10 out of the 16. But the Sox took a three-game lead in the American League pennant race by grabbing 11 of 12.

The Indians managed a split Sunday with Baltimore on Tito Francona's torrid bat. Francona had four singles as Cleveland bowed to the Orioles 5-4 in 10 innings, then broke up the nightcap with a three-run homer in the ninth inning to give the Tribe a 6-3 decision.

Francona had seven hits in eight trips to raise his average to .417. The only time he was retired—in the seventh inning of the second game—it took a diving catch by third baseman Brooks Robinson to do it. Robinson grabbed Tito's liner with two on and two out.

Gary Bell (11-9) went the distnce for the Indians in the nightcap, although he yielded a dozen hits. Billy O'Dell (6-9), who relieved starter Milt Pappas at the start of the ninth, took the loss.

In the opener, the Orioles sprayed 15 singles — many of them bloopers and infield hits — off starter Cal McLish and Al Cicotte (2-1), who pitched the final two frames and was tagged with the loss.

The Orioles counted the deciding run in the 10th inning without hitting the ball out of the infield.

Cleveland's first three runs in the opener came on home runs—by Rocky Colavito and Woodie Held. Colavito hit his in the fourth inning with Francona aboard. Rocky's 31st home run put the Tribe in front 2-1.

Held's 20th home run padded the lead to 3-1 in the fifth.

Trailing by two runs, the Orioles regained the lead 4-3 on a pinch-hitter Gene Woodling's bases-loaded single and a sacrifice fly by Albie Pearson, another pinch swinger, in the eighth.

But the Indians bounced back to tie it 4-4 on Billy Martin's single, a passed ball and Minnie Minoso's clutch single.

The nightcap was another tense contest. The Indians took a 1-0 lead in the third inning on Minoso's single and Francona's double. Another run came across in the fourth inning. Jim Baxes singled and Russ Nixon doubled, but Baxes was out at the plate. Nixon took third on the play and came in when Bill Gardner bobbled Bell's grounder.

The Orioles tied it 2-2 in the sixth on singles by Al Pilarcik and Woodling and a double by Robinson off Baxes' knee at third base.

The lead then see-sawed. In the eighth, George Strickland walked and Nixon drove a two-out triple to right, his third hit of the game, to put the Indians ahead 3-2. A single by Pearson and Billy Klaus' double evened it up again in the ninth.

Francona then drove his 11th home run into the right field seats, following singles by Martin and Minoso, and the 34,682 fans went home in a happy mood.

The crowd boosted the Indians' home attendance to 1,009,562—the first time in four years it has passed a million.

Cleveland goes to Washington Tuesday night for the start of a four-game series with the Senators, who are due to win any day now. They have lost 16 in a row.

Except for the runner-up Cleveland Indians, the rest of the league is fading into the gloaming. Both Baltimore and Kansas City, tied for third, are 11 games back. And the Yankees? They are 12 games down in fourth place.

The little men did it again Sunday in the first game with Washington, slashing and racing to upset the punchy Senators. Trailing 2-1 in the last of the ninth, Aparicio opened with a single, Fox bunted and catcher Steve Korcheck threw the ball away. Aparicio scored and Fox dashed to third. Two intentional walks loaded the bases and Billy Goodman plunked a fly ball single into left over a drawn in outfield for a 3-2 victory.

Lown, who took over after Billy Pierce left for a pinch hitter in the eighth, won his eighth despite a shaky ninth inning. It was his fifth straight.

Again in the second game, when Bob Shaw began to stumble in the eighth, in came Staley to breeze through 1 1-3 hitless innings, saving Shaw's 10th victory, 9-3.

Washington hit the only home runs. Faye Throneberry got No. 9 in the first game and Jim Lemon No. 24 in the second. But the Senators lost their 15th and 16th in a row, only two short of their club record set in 1948.

Chicago now has won six straight and 11 of its last 12 games. Since the first All-Star break they have a 19-5 record. Their opening game victory was their 26th by one run.

Cleveland lost ground by dropping a 5-4 decision to Baltimore in 10 innings. Willie Miranda beat out a high bounder to the mound, driving in the winning run. That one little hit minimized Rocky Colavito's 31st homer and Woody Held's 20th.

Tito Francona's seventh hit of the day, a three-run homer off Billy O'Dell in the ninth gave Cleveland a 6-3 decision in the second game. Francona had four singles in the first game and a double and single before his homer. The only time the Orioles got him out was when third baseman Brooks Robinson made a diving catch of a line drive.

Gary Bell won his 11th in the second while Al Cicotte lost his first on relief in the opener. Hoyt Wilhelm was Baltimore's winner and O'Dell, who worked in both games, dropped the second. Cleveland's attendance soared over the million mark to 1,009,562 with the turnout of 34,682.

Elston Howard drove in four runs with two singles and a double in New York's 7-5 victory over Kansas City. Ryne Duren struck out seven in 3 2-3 shutout innings but Duke Maas was the winner over Bob Grim.

Jackie Jensen's three-run homer and Frank Malzone's two-run blast provided all the runs in Boston's 5-4 decision over Detroit. Charlie Maxwell hit his 23rd and his 11th Sunday home run. Ike Delock won in relief over starter Paul Foytack.

The footabll series between Illinois and Northwestern is all even. Each team has won 24 games. Four ended in ties.

Buffalo Captures Another Twin Bill

By The Associated Press

The Buffalo Bisons, with a 10-game lead in the International League, have no secrets about their streak of 16 victories in 20 games since July 15. They spell their success story in two words: P-o-w-e-r and H-e-r-r-e-r-a.

The power is found in the batting statistics that give the Bisons team leadership in home runs, doubles and runs batted in.

Herrera—the big first baseman whose first name is Frank—leads the league in home runs (30), runs batted in (99) and in second in batting with .342.

Both were working Sunday as the Bisons swept a doubleheader from Richmond, 5-4 and 9-3. Herrera went 5-for-9 with six RBI.

Havana took undisputed possession of second place with a 2-1 victory in 16 innings over Toronto in the first game of a doubleheader. The second was called after four innings with Havana leading 3-0 and will be completed tonight. Montreal beat Miami 5-3 before losing 2-0.

Tito May Not Be Eligible For Batting Crown In AL

CLEVELAND (AP)—Tito Francona, the new hero of the Cleveland baseball fans, says he has no secret for his sensational hitting. "I just keep swinging at that ball."

Francona whacked seven hits in a doubleheader with the Baltimore Orioles Sunday, winning the nightcap with a three-run homer in the ninth inning to break a 3-3 tie. The Orioles took the opener 5-4 in 10 innings and Tito had four singles.

The only time he was retired in the twinbill was in the seventh inning of the second game and it took a diving catch by Oriole third baseman Brooks Robinson to snare Tito's hot line drive.

With his seven-for-eight spree, the 25-year-old Francona lifted his already lofty average 18 points to .417. He has only a slim chance to be eligible for the American League batting title, however, since he has been to the plate only 237 times. To be eligible he needs to come to bat almost five times in each of the Indians' remaining 50 games to fulfill the required 477 appearances.

Red-Hot Giant Rookie Blasts 1st HR In 5-3 Win Over Bucs

Dodgers Beat Phils, Remain Half Game Out

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The new firm of Willie McCovey and Willie Mays is keeping the San Francisco Giants on top of the National League. They provided the dynamite Sunday while Johnny Antonelli's 15th victory — a six-hitter — tamed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3.

McCovey is hitting a sensational .500 with 9-for-18 since the Giants moved him up from their Phoenix farm last Thursday. He went 4-for-4 the first day, knocked in the winning run the second and then went 3-for-5 Saturday.

Mays put the Giants out in front to stay with a seventh-inning double off loser Bob Porterfield. Once again Davenport scored.

Los Angeles regained second place, a half game behind the Giants by shading Philadelphia 4-3 while Milwaukee was splitting a pair with St. Louis. The Cardinals took the opener 4-3 as Lindy McDaniel rescued Larry Jackson. Lew Burdette won his 15th in the second 11-5 when Billy Bruton hit a pair of three-run triples and Felix Mantilla connected for a three-run homer.

Rookie Jay Hook and veteran Brooks Lawrence teamed up with a five-hit shutout for Cincinnati's 2-0 decision over Chicago. Hook gave up only three hits but walked three in a row in the seventh, bringing Lawrence from the bullpen.

Antonelli became the first in the majors to win 15 but he was joined about two hours later by Burdette. The Giants' left-hander has lost only six.

Pittsburgh grabbed a 3-0 lead in the fourth but McCovey's homer got two of them back. Willie Kirkland's double, followed by Hobie Landrith's single tied the score in the sixth and Mays put San Francisco out front in the seventh. Felipe Alou's single drove in the final score in the eighth.

Despite Duke Snider's 14th homer, the Dodgers trailed the Phils 3-1 going to the fifth. They rose up for three in that inning, two on Charlie Neal's homer and another on Snider's single and Norm Larker's double. Larry Sherry, who had taken over in the fifth, allowed only one hit the rest of the way, fanning five, to record his second victory. The smallest crowd of the season, 10,201, saw the game.

Milwaukee's largest crowd of the year, 42,732 watched the Braves split. They now have won 10 of their last 12.

Singles by Eddie Kasko, Vada Pinson and Gus Bell and a double steal accounted for Cincinnati's two runs in the third off loser Dave Hillman.

Rosburg Reigns As New Professional Golf Champ

By JIM KLOBUCHAR

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Bob Rosburg, a stubborn man with a hacker's style, has shed his five-year role as an oddity of big time golf for the regal garb of Professional Golfers Assn. champion.

With a startling four-under-par 66 in the wind and gloom at Minneapolis Golf Club Sunday, the 32-year-old Californian confounded the skeptics and ended his long quest for a major prestige victory.

To do it he had to break the heart of Jerry Barber, the spunky little veteran who had his first national title within grasp only to run out of gas on the final holes. Barber struggled home with a 73 for a 72-hole 278, one stroke back of Rosburg and in a tie with another weird swinger, Doug Sanders.

Rosburg thus became the second man this year to win a big tournament using the so-called baseball grip that makes most golfing teachers wince. Art Wall Jr., its other leading exponent, won the Masters.

But it has been most closely identified through the years with Rosburg, and made him a curiosity wherever he played. He acquired a reputation for scrambling and finishing second.

With $8,250 in first place money beckoning him, however, he delivered one of the great pressure rounds of the year.

Six strokes behind Barber, heading into the final round and all but discounted as a contender, he fired five birdies on the front nine for a 30 to equal the course record set just two days before by Barber. It pulled him even with Jerry.

Then, playing in the threesome ahead of Barber, he stayed shoulder-to-shoulder with the little man for four holes. Barber's birdie on the 15th thrust him back into the lead but he lost it by hitting into the trap on the 17th and lost the title by doing the same on the 18th.

Barber, aware all the time how Rosburg was going, thought he had the title when he tapped in a 20-foot putt for a par on the 16th after coming out of a trap.

"But on the last two holes I went out to lunch and forgot to come home," he said with pained humor afterward. He hit into a trap on the 17th and couldn't extricate himself without a bogey. Trapped again on the 18th, he punched 18 feet past the hole.

By this time the daylong overcast was dumping rain on the course and 12,000 spectators lining the 18th fairway and rimming the green.

Barber, walking the line of his putt, squatting to study it, and intensely reading the green, was a forlorn figure in the rain. He stroked the ball, but his confidence was gone and the ball was short.

Sanders, one stroke behind Barber after 18, hung on all day and just missed tying for the lead when he fluffed a 2½ foot putt on the 17th.

Mike Souchak, two strokes behind after 54, knocked himself out early by gunning wildly on the front nine in an effort to catch up. Defending champ Dow Finsterwald stepped into the breech with a 70 to finish fourth at 280, three strokes off the pace. Barber and Sanders each won $3,562.50 and Finsterwald $2,500. Ken Venturi, Souchak and Bob Goalby, who closed with a 68, wound up with $2,000 each in a tie for fifth at 281.

Merchants Upset Cox's In City League Playoffs

The East Liverpool Merchants pulled a surprising 8-7 upset over Cox Construction Saturday in the first of three City League playoff contests.

The Merchants were on a hitting spree, collecting 11 safe blows. Manager John Andrason's team scored two runs in the third, bunched four in the fourth and added two more in the fifth.

The losing pitcher was Dave Hornick, who relieved Jim Dickey in the fourth inning.

At one time Cox's boasted a 4-2 lead after scoring four runs in the fourth inning. However, the Merchants erased the margin with four big runs of their own to go ahead 6-4.

Vermillion, Reider, Rambo and Smith each collected two hits apiece, with Reider's double a big blow in the fourth inning.

Cox's nicked Rambo for 11 hits, including a triple by Bernie Allen. Jack Byers, Bruce Campbell and Bob Campbell Sr. stroked two safeties each.

The same two teaams will meet in the second game Wednesday at Patterson Field.

City League Playoffs Will Continue Tonight

The City League playoffs will continue tonight at Patterson Field when Lawrenceville and Irondale clash. The same two teams will meet Tuesday.

Knight Is Named Most Valuable At Indiana Meet

The East Palestine track squad, led by Larry Knight, placed second in the Indiana County All-Comers Track Meet last weekend at Indiana, Pa.

The Indiana entry won the meet with 38 points. East Palestine finished with 27.

Pennsylvania Stars Down All-Americans

HERSHEY, Pa. — Pennsylvania's High School All-Stars came out on top with an 18-0 victory over the All-America Prep stars here Saturday night.

Fullback Denny Phillips of Mt. Lebanon scored one touchdown on a short plunge, while tailback Ed Rutkowski of Kingston tallied the second on a 19-yard dash. Both Phillips and Rutkowski are headed for Notre Dame.

A safety and the extra points completed the scoring.

Just Hit 'Em, Willie States

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"I figure that if I hit 'em, they're going to take care of themselves. And I figure I'm strong enough to hit 'em."

That's the batting philosophy of Willie (Stretch) McCovey, the 6-foot-4 rookie first baseman who's sparked a four-game winning streak that's keeping the San Francisco Giants atop the National League.

Sunday Willie collected just one hit but it traveled 390 feet and into the right field bleachers for a two-run homer as the Giants beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-3.

McCovey, a 21-year-old Negro, joined the Giants Wednesday. He was called up from the Phoenix Pacific Coast League club. The team was down, having won just three of eight outings on its home stand.

Willie broke in with two triples and two singles in four times in his first major league game.

The next night, the 200-pound rookie knocked in the winning run with a single, then followed with a pair of doubles and a single that started a winning rally.

"Sometimes a spark will light a fire," commented manager Bill Rigney after his club clung to the league lead by one-half game.

A native of Mobile, Ala., McCovey signed as a kid of 17 and has moved up the ladder of the Giants' farm system in steady strides. Last season in Phoenix he hit .319 with 14 home runs. This season, he was clubbing at a .377 clip with 23 homers when called up by the slumping parent club.

Favorites Beaten Again At Three Of Top Tracks

By The Associated Press

This has been a bad year, generally speaking, for favorites in major horse races. So it shouldn't have been too much of a surprise when Sword Dancer, Silver Spoon and Bally Ache bit the dust in Saturday's three top events.

Exempt Hillsdale, Round Table in most of his races and the two C.V. Whitney fillies, Bug Brush and Silver Spoon, in a majority of their California starts and you'll find that in practically all of the top 1959 races the favorites have been beaten.

The trend started last winter in the Flamingo at Hialeah Park and the Santa Anita Handicap. It continued Saturday when Sword Dancer, a leading contender for 3-year old honors, bowed to Babu ($47.80) in the $113,300 Brooklyn Handicap at Jamaica, Bally Ache was edged by T.V. Lark ($68.00) in the $212,000 Futurity in Arlington Park and Silver Spoon wound up third as Royal Native ($15.40) won the $55,000 Oaks at Monmouth Park.

C.R. MacCoy's T.V. Lark of Paramount, Calif., winner of only one of his six previous starts, collected $150,312 after beating Bally Ache and 18 other 2-year olds in Arlington's Futurity. A neck separated the pair at the finish of the 6 furlongs, run in 1:12 2-5. The Futurity was the world's second richest race, exceeded only by last fall's Garden State Stakes.

McCormick Undergoes Surgery For Lung Spot

CINCINNATI (AP)—Surgery to cut out a lung lesion is planned today for Frank McCormick, a Cincinnati Reds' all-time great first baseman.

McCormick, 46, entered Christ Hospital for tests last week after a routine chest X-ray at Crosley Field showed a suspicious spot.

A Redleg for eight years, he batted over .300 for five of those years and was a leading light on the pennant-winning crew of 1940. He also led National League first basemen in fielding four straight years.

For the last two seasons he has been a television baseball broadcaster here. Before that, he was a Cincinnati coach for two years.

Win Tennis Title

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Cmdr. John Thompson of Tilton, N. H., and Cmdr. Burton Smith, Albuquerque, won the seniors doubles from Capt. Dave Bill, Chillicothe, Ohio, and Cmdr. Norman Tate, Annapolis, at the All Navy Tennis matches here Saturday. Score was 6-1, 6-1.

In 15 years of coaching college football, Duke's Bill Murray shows 100 victories. His teams have lost 40 times.

Redlegs Beat Cubs 3 In Row

CINCINNATI (AP)—At the last All - Star game, the Cincinnati Reds were a losing, disorganized squad with a sure-to-be-fired manager. Things are brighter today.

The Reds shut out Chicago, 2-,0 Sunday to earn their first three-game series sweep all season.

New manager Freddie Hutchinson said, "I wouldn't be at all surprised if we kick up quite a storm the rest of the way."

Hutch has made no radical changes, but in tinkering around came up with a winning pitching combination again Sunday.

The Reds had brought up rookie Jay Hook from Seattle where Hutch was manager. Hutchinson also decided to make Brooks Lawrence a reliefer, permanently.

Hook started Sunday. Lawrence finished. They allowed only five hits in teaming up for the shutout.

The Reds had sunk to seventh place under former manager Mayo Smith, with a 35 won, 45 lost mark.

But with a spurt of six victories in the last seven games, Cincinnati has won 14 and lost 10 for Hutchinson.

Sunday, the club climbed into sixth place for the first time since June.

The Rhinelanders today are second in the league in batting with more runs scored and more RBI than any other team. They are tied for the top in fielding.

But it's no secret that the pitching, from the start of the season, has been mostly second rate.

The Reds can still aim for a first division finish. Fourth place is only 1½ games away. But there is little chance the team can rise any higher, with seven games separating third and fourth place.

Even a fourth place finish still depends on the pitching corps. Hutch may have to prop up his throwers with baling wire, chewing gum and soft soap to see them through the season.

Cincinnati scored both its runs Sunday in the third inning. Eddie Kasko led off with a single, trotted to second on Hook's sacrifice, reached third on Johnny Temple's putout and scored on Vada Pinson's single. Pinson reached third on Gus Bell's single, and a double steal put him across.

Hook gave up only two singles and a double in the first six innings but then his control faded. He walked three straight Cubs and gave Lawrence the job.

The Springfield reliefer was hit for Jim Marshall's single and Ernie Banks' one-out double in the ninth. But he struck out dangerous Walt Moryn and Sam Taylor to preserve the shutout.

The Reds left for the West Coast after the game. They'll see the second All-Star game today and resume the campaign Tuesday against second place Los Angeles. Joe Nuxhall will probably start on the mound.

Red-Hot Giant Rookie Blasts 1st HR In 5-3 Win Over Bucs

Dodgers Beat Phils, Remain Half Game Out

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The new firm of Willie McCovey and Willie Mays is keeping the San Francisco Giants on top of the National League. They provided the dynamite Sunday while Johnny Antonelli's 15th victory — a six-hitter — tamed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3.

McCovey is hitting a sensational .500 with 9-for-18 since the Gianst moved him up from their Phoenix farm last Thursday. He went 4-for-4 the first day, knocked in the winning run the second and then went 3-for-5 Saturday.

The newest Willie hit his first major league home run — a 390-blast off Ronny Kline with Jim Davenport on in the fourth inning.

Mays put the Giants out in front to stay with a seventh-inning double off loser Bob Porterfield. Once again Davenport scored.

Los Angeles regained second place, a half game behind the Giants by shading Philadelphia 4-3 while Milwaukee was splitting a pair with St. Louis. The Cardinals took the opener 4-3 as Lindy McDaniel rescued Larry Jackson. Lew Burdette won his 15th in the second 11-5 when Billy Bruton hit a pair of three-run triples and Felix Mantilla connected for a three-run homer.

Rookie Jay Hook and veteran Brooks Lawrence teamed up with a five-hit shutout for Cincinnati's 2-0 decision over Chicago. Hook gave up only three hits but walked three in a row in the seventh, bringing Lawrence from the bullpen.

Antonelli became the first in the majors to win 15 but he was joined about two hours later by Burdette. The Giants' left-hander has lost only six.

Pittsburgh grabbed a 3-0 lead in the fourth but McCovey's homer got two of them back. Willie Kirkland's double, followed by Hobie Landrith's single tied the score in the sixth and Mays put San Francisco out front in the seventh. Felipe Alou's single drove in the final score in the eighth.

Despite Duke Snider's 14th homer, the Dodgers trailed the Phils 3-1 going to the fifth. They rose up for three in that inning, two on Charlie Neal's homer and another on Snider's single and Norm Larker's double. Larry Sherry, who had taken over in the fifth, allowed only one hit the rest of the way, fanning five, to record his second victory. The smallest crowd of the season, 10,201, saw the game.

Milwaukee's largest crowd of the year, 42,732 watched the Braves split. They now have won 10 of their last 12.

Singles by Eddie Kasko, Vada Pinson and Gus Bell and a double steal accounted for Cincinnati's two runs in the third off loser Dave Hillman.

Rosburg Reigns As New Professional Golf Champ

By JIM KLOBUCHAR

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Bob Rosburg, a stubborn man with a hacker's style, has shed his five-year role as an oddity of big time golf for the regal garb of Professional Golfers Assn. champion.

With a startling four-under-par 66 in the wind and gloom at Minneapolis Golf Club Sunday, the 32-year-old Californian confounded the skeptics and ended his long quest for a major prestige victory.

To do it he had to break the heart of Jerry Barber, the spunky little veteran who had his first national title within grasp only to run out of gas on the final holes. Barber struggled home with a 73 for a 72-hole 278, one stroke back of Rosburg and in a tie with another weird swinger, Doug Sanders.

Rosburg thus became the second man this year to win a big tournament using the so-called baseball grip that makes most golfing teachers wince. Art Wall Jr., its other leading exponent, won the Masters.

But it has been most closely identified through the years with Rosburg, and made him a curiosity wherever he played. He acquired a reputation for scrambling and finishing second.

With $8,250 in first place money beckoning him, however, he delivered one of the great pressure rounds of the year.

Six strokes behind Barber, heading into the final round and all but discounted as a contender, he fired five birdies on the front nine for a 30 to equal the course record set just two days before by Barber. It pulled him even with Jerry.

Then, playing in the threesome ahead of Barber, he stayed shoulder-to-shoulder with the little man for four holes. Barber's birdie on the 15th thrust him back into the lead but he lost it by hitting into the trap on the 17th and lost the title by doing the same on the 18th.

Barber, aware all the time how Rosburg was going, thought he had the title when he tapped in a 20-foot putt for a par on the 16th after coming out of a trap.

"But on the last two holes I went out to lunch and forgot to come home," he said with pained humor afterward. He hit into a trap on the 17th and couldn't extricate himself without a bogey. Trapped again on the 18th, he punched 18 feet past the hole.

By this time the daylong overcast was dumping rain on the course and 12,000 spectators lining the 18th fairway and rimming the green.

Barber, walking the line of his putt, squatting to study it, and intensely reading the green, was a forlorn figure in the rain. He stroked the ball, but his confidence was gone and the ball was short.

Sanders, one stroke behind Barber after 18, hung on all day and just missed tying for the lead when he fluffed a 2½ foot putt on the 17th.

Mike Souchak, two strokes behind after 54, knocked himself out early by gunning wildly on the front nine in an effort to catch up. Defending champ Dow Finsterwald stepped into the breech with a 70 to finish fourth at 280, three strokes off the pace. Barber and Sanders each won $3,562.50 and Finsterwald $2,500. Ken Venturi, Souchak and Bob Goalby, who closed with a 68, wound up with $2,000 each in a tie for fifth at 281.

Merchants Upset Cox's In City League Playoffs

The East Liverpool Merchants pulled a surprising 8-7 upset over Cox Construction Saturday in the first of three City League playoff contests.

The Merchants were on a hitting spree, collecting 11 safe blows. Manager John Andrason's team scored two runs in the third, bunched four in the fourth and added two more in the fifth.

The losing pitcher was Dave Hornick, who relieved Jim Dickey in the fourth inning.

At one time Cox's boasted a 4-2 lead after scoring four runs in the fourth inning. However, the Merchants erased the margin with four big runs of their own to go ahead 6-4.

Vermillion, Reider, Rambo and Smith each collected two hits apiece, with Reider's double a big blow in the fourth inning.

Cox's nicked Rambo for 11 hits, including a triple by Bernie Allen. Jack Byers, Bruce Campbell and Bob Campbell Sr. stroked two safeties each.

The same two teaams will meet in the second game Wednesday at Patterson Field.

City League Playoffs Will Continue Tonight

The City League playoffs will continue tonight at Patterson Field when Lawrenceville and Irondale clash. The same two teams will meet Tuesday.

Favorites Beaten Again At Three Of Top Tracks

By The Associated Press

This has been a bad year, generally speaking, for favorites in major horse races. So it shouldn't have been too much of a surprise when Sword Dancer, Silver Spoon and Bally Ache bit the dust in Saturday's three top events.

Exempt Hillsdale, Round Table in most of his races and the two C.V. Whitney fillies, Bug Brush and Silver Spoon, in a majority of their California starts and you'll find that in practically all of the top 1959 races the favorites have been beaten.

The trend started last winter in the Flamingo at Hialeah Park and the Santa Anita Handicap. It continued Saturday when Sword Dancer, a leading contender for 3-year old honors, bowed to Babu ($47.80) in the $113,300 Brooklyn Handicap at Jamaica, Bally Ache was edged by T.V. Lark ($68.00) in the $212,000 Futurity in Arlington Park and Silver Spoon wound up third as Royal Native ($15.40) won the $55,000 Oaks at Monmouth Park.

C.R. MacCoy's T.V. Lark of Paramount, Calif., winner of only one of his six previous starts, collected $150,312 after beating Bally Ache and 18 other 2-year olds in Arlington's Futurity. A neck separated the pair at the finish of the 6 furlongs, run in 1:12 2-5. The Futurity was the world's second richest race, exceeded only by last fall's Garden State Stakes.

McCormick Undergoes Surgery For Lung Spot

CINCINNATI (AP)—Surgery to cut out a lung lesion is planned today for Frank McCormick, a Cincinnati Reds' all-time great first baseman.

McCormick, 46, entered Christ Hospital for tests last week after a routine chest X-ray at Crosley Field showed a suspicious spot.

A Redleg for eight years, he batted over .300 for five of those years and was a leading light on the pennant-winning crew of 1940. He also led National League first basemen in fielding four straight years.

For the last two seasons he has been a television baseball broadcaster here. Before that, he was a Cincinnati coach for two years.

Win Tennis Title

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Cmdr. John Thompson of Tilton, N. H., and Cmdr. Burton Smith, Albuquerque, won the seniors doubles from Capt. Dave Bill, Chillicothe, Ohio, and Cmdr. Norman Tate, Annapolis, at the All Navy Tennis matches here Saturday. Score was 6-1, 6-1.

In 15 years of coaching college football, Duke's Bill Murray shows 100 victories. His teams have lost 40 times.

Redlegs Beat Cubs 3 In Row

CINCINNATI (AP)—At the last All - Star game, the Cincinnati Reds were a losing, disorganized squad with a sure-to-be-fired manager. Things are brighter today.

The Reds shut out Chicago, 2-0 Sunday to earn their first three-game series sweep all season.

New manager Freddie Hutchinson said, "I wouldn't be at all surprised if we kick up quite a storm the rest of the way."

Hutch has made no radical changes, but in tinkering around came up with a winning pitching combination again Sunday.

The Reds had brought up rookie Jay Hook from Seattle where Hutch was manager. Hutchinson also decided to make Brooks Lawrence a reliefer, permanently.

Hook started Sunday. Lawrence finished. They allowed only five hits in teaming up for the shutout.

The Reds had sunk to seventh place under former manager Mayo Smith, with a 35 won, 45 lost mark.

But with a spurt of six victories in the last seven games, Cincinnati has won 14 and lost 10 for Hutchinson.

Sunday, the club climbed into sixth place for the first time since June.

The Rhinelanders today are second in the league in batting with more runs scored and more RBI than any other team. They are tied for the top in fielding.

But it's no secret that the pitching, from the start of the season, has been mostly second rate.

The Reds can still aim for a first division finish. Fourth place is only 1½ games away. But there is little chance the team can rise any higher, with seven games separating third and fourth place.

Even a fourth place finish still depends on the pitching corps. Hutch may have to prop up his throwers with baling wire, chewing gum and soft soap to see them through the season.

Cincinnati scored both its runs Sunday in the third inning. Eddie Kasko led off with a single, trotted to second on Hook's sacrifice, reached third on Johnny Temple's putout and scored on Vada Pinson's single. Pinson reached third on Gus Bell's single, and a double steal put him across.

Hook gave up only two singles and a double in the first six innings but then his control faded. He walked three straight Cubs and gave Lawrence the job.

The Springfield reliefer was hit for Jim Marshall's single and Ernie Banks' one-out double in the ninth. But he struck out dangerous Walt Moryn and Sam Taylor to preserve the shutout.

The Reds left for the West Coast after the game. They'll see the second All-Star game today and resume the campaign Tuesday against second place Los Angeles. Joe Nuxhall will probably start on the mound.

Batting — Tito Francona, Indians, collected seven hits in doubleheader, winning second game from Baltimore with three-run homer in ninth, 6-3.

It's Regular Fare To Pianist-Composer

NEW YORK (AP) — To pianist-composer Linda Babits, winning musical contests for her "Palisades Park Suite" is regular fare. In the last year she has won three major prizes—the John Golden Award, Salt Lake Philharmonic Competitions and the Palisades Composition Award—worth a total of $2,000.

Linda says there's no secret about her writing, she just has an effective listener in 8-year-old sister Olivia. Says Linda: "I play the piece for Olivia. If she doesn't squirm, stretch, read, write, color, draw, get hungry or thirsty or fall asleep, I know the piece is right."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear husband and father, FRANK CASHDOLLAR, Who passed away two years ago today, Aug. 3, 1954.
Sad and sudden was the call of One so dearly loved by all.
It was a bitter grief, a shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear.
To have to hold and to part.
Is the saddest thing of the human heart.
O' Lord keep green the grave that lies
beneath the wide and starry skies.
Keep sweet the sleep and give him rest,
whose hands are folded over his breast.
Forgotten by some you may be,
but dear to our memory you will ever be.
These two years has been the most lonely we have ever spent.
Your wife Hazel, son Roy and family.

Send 35 cents in coins for this pattern to Anne Adams, in care of the East Liverpool Review, 49 Pattern Dept., 243 W. 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly your name, address, size and the style number.

It's Regular Fare To Pianist-Composer

NEW YORK (AP) — To pianist-composer Linda Babits, winning musical contests for her "Palisades Park Suite" is regular fare. In the last year she has won three major prizes—the John Golden Award, Salt Lake Philharmonic Competitions and the Palisades Composition Award—worth a total of $2,000.

Linda says there's no secret about her writing, she just has an effective listener in 8-year-old sister Olivia. Says Linda: "I play the piece for Olivia. If she doesn't squirm, stretch, read, write, color, draw, get hungry or thirsty or fall asleep, I know the piece is right."

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear husband and father, FRANK CASHDOLLAR, Who passed away two years ago today, Aug. 3, 1954.
Sad and sudden was the call of
One so dearly loved by all.
It was a bitter grief, a shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear.
To have to hold and to part.
Is the saddest thing of the human heart.
O' Lord keep green the grave that lies
beneath the wide and starry skies,
Keep sweet the sleep and give him rest,
whose hands are folded over his breast.
Forgotten by some you may be,
but dear to our memory you will ever be.
These two years has been the most lonely we have ever spent.
Your wife Hazel, son Roy and family.

Rockefeller's Decision Now Due By Nov. 1

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York will decide by Nov. 1, on the basis of public opinion polls, whether he will seek the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

The governor, who is teetering on the brink of an announcement, has told friends that he would be a candidate only if he had conclusive evidence that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is not likely to win against the Democratic nominee.

Rockefeller takes no stock in polls which point to the election of a Democrat as president.

But he apparently is unwilling to challenge Nixon unless the vice president unaccountably slips in the polls to a point where they indicate one of several Democratic opponents could defeat him.

Some of his strategists have told the New York governor that his timing is too late. They say the reaction to Nixon's Soviet visit will be a rise in the vice president's poll popularty at the time Rockefeller plans his decision. But the governor insists adamantly he will make no decision until fall.

Rockefeller clearly is the star so far of the 51st annual Governor's Conference, opening today.

It was news to him that former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had advised him to make a decision on the race this fall.

Neither had he heard, he said, of a prediction by Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) that accelerating events would force such a decision earlier than expected.

Use a deep narrow bowl when you are making mayonnaise so the mixture will ge the benefit of the rotary-beater action.

Calcutta Firemen's Carnival Opens Tonight

The Calcutta volunteer firemen's carnival opens tonight at about 7 for a week's stand on the firemen's lot across the street from the fire station.

Norman Neal, president, said the carnival includes four rides—two for children—in addition to various booths and concession stands operated by other area fire companies. Carl Utter of Adena set up the carnival today. One of the rides is a ferris wheel.

An exhibit has also been set up in the fire hall where area merchants will display household equipment, autos, toys and boats.

The carnival will be climaxed with a parade Friday night at 8 with some 40 units entered. It will be Calcutta's first firemen's parade, Neal said. Proceeds will be used for a building fund.

How Much Do You Know About Mortuary Services?

★ YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES?

There are good reasons why everyone should be familiar with mortuary details and customs.

For one thing, you never know when you might have to act for the family or help friends with a funeral arrangement. For another, you never know what special conditions you might have to face. An accident, or a death far from home — perhaps overseas — frequently poses some knotty problems. Still a third good reason lies in the fact that some pre-knowledge greatly reduces your mental stress in a difficult period—and most important—helps you to guard against overspending.

We have the answers to the problems you'll face, and we've put them all in a handy little pocket-size booklet for you.

• Ask for a copy of "WHAT EVERY PERSON SHOULD KNOW." Write, phone or just drop in—there's no obligation of any kind.

Rockefeller's Decision Now Due By Nov. 1

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York will decide by Nov. 1, on the basis of public opinion polls, whether he will seek the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

The governor, who is teetering on the brink of an announcement, has told friends that he would be a candidate only if he had conclusive evidence that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is not likely to win against the Democratic nominee.

Rockefeller takes no stock in polls which point to the election of a Democrat as president.

But he apparently is unwilling to challenge Nixon unless the vice president unaccountably slips in the polls to a point where they indicate one of several Democratic opponents could defeat him.

Some of his strategists have told the New York governor that his timing is too late. They say the reaction to Nixon's Soviet visit will be a rise in the vice president's poll popularty at the time Rockefeller plans his decision. But the governor insists adamantly he will make no decision until fall.

Rockefeller clearly is the star so far of the 51st annual Governor's Conference, opening today.

It was news to him that former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had advised him to make a decision on the race this fall.

Neither had he heard, he said, of a prediction by Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) that accelerating events would force such a decision earlier than expected.
